Gun Club Fires $500 Blast for 500 Fund

Victoria Gun Club yesterday fulfilled its pledge of at least $500 for this year's Daily Colonist 500 Christmas Fund with a cheque for $353 to be added to an earlier amount of $147.

The club had guaranteed at least $1 for each of Greater Victoria's 500 most needy families, and hopes to raise more through its annual charity turkey shoot.

The shoot will be held at the club's Albert Head grounds on Saturday and Sunday, Dec. 17 and 18, and is open to all comers.

All contestants need to know is how to point a gun and pull a trigger to compete for a ham or turkey. Entrants are graded according to ability and will compete against shooters of equal skill.

The shoot begins at 10 each morning and continues until dusk.

Non-shooters, too, will get a chance to win hams and turkeys. On hand will be entertainment and games for those who just go along for the ride.

Cash donations should be addressed to The Daily Colonist 500 Christmas Fund and mailed to or left at the main office at 2631 Douglas Street or the downtown office, 1215 Broad Street. Don't forget the Victoria Motorcycle Club Scramble at Colwood Race Track starting at 1 p.m. Sunday. Proceeds are for the Colonist 500 Fund.

Dog-Carrying Red Spaceship Fails, Burns

MOSCOW (Reuters) — Russia's latest spaceship-satellite burned up Friday when Russian scientists failed in an attempt to bring it back to earth as planned.

Moscow Radio reported Friday that the third Soviet spaceship-satellite, launched Thursday, ceased to exist when it hit dense layers of the earth's atmosphere after radio orders called it back to earth.

ATMOSPHERE

Moscow Radio said the animal-carrying vehicle descended along an "uncalculated trajectory" and was destroyed in the dense atmosphere. Aboard were two dogs, other animals, insects and plants.

It added that the last stage of the 4½-ton spaceship's carrier rocket continued in orbit around the earth.

NEAR FUTURE

The announcement said the order for the spaceship's return was given after sufficient information had been obtained for a manned space flight in the near future.

Earlier, Viktor Bazykin, director of the Moscow Planetarium, reported that it seemed certain "something" had happened to the spaceship after it fell silent at 2 a.m. PST.

Neglect Found In Blast

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP)—A coroner's jury Friday night cited negligence on the part of Union Gas Company of Canada Limited and Jessup Plumbing Limited in the Oct. 25 explosion which wrecked a Metropolitan Stores building.

Ten were killed and more than 80 injured when the explosion—caused by natural gas—collapsed the department store.

The jury brought in its verdict after deliberating seven hours. More than 150 witnesses testified during the four-day hearing.

Return to Farm Jobless Advised

TORONTO (CP) — Instead of crying about being out of work, unemployed city dwellers with farm experience and background should return to the farm where there are jobs, Public Works Minister Connell of Ontario said. Mr. Connell said he has often advertised for experienced help for his own farm but to no avail.

"Wages on many farms are comparable to wages in industry," he said.

Surprise! And George Shows It

Royal Assent Given Bill

OTTAWA (CP)—The railway strike is off. A government ban against the nation-wide rail walkout was proclaimed as law at 6.30 p.m. EST.

After a three-day emergency debate, Parliament ordered 111,000 non-operating rail workers to stay on their jobs and keep the trains running.

TO WIRE

The stop-the-strike law went almost to the wire in its pell-mell push against the strike deadline — set for 8 a.m. local time today.

It faced fierce criticism from the opposition in both the Commons and the Senate, but finally was given royal assent at 6.05 p.m. The formal proclamation followed after a special cabinet meeting.

HALL CONCURS

Chief union spokesman Frank H. Hall issued a statement suspending the strike call and ordering all employees to "remain in service." He was in the Senate gallery as Chief Justice Patrick Kerwin of the Supreme Court of Canada, acting for the Governor-General, gave the legislation royal assent.

The new law postpones any strike action in the rail-union contract scrap until after May 15 — without prejudicing the interest of either disputant.

FREEZES WAGES

In effect, it freezes the wages of the "non-op" rail workers—the clerks, machinists, freight handlers, porters, telegraphers, signalmen and others who do not actually run trains. Their average hourly earnings are $1.77.

Prime Minister Diefenbaker and Labor Minister Starr said in the Commons the law would prevent a national calamity and massive unemployment resulting from a tie-up of the transcontinental trains.

PROPER COURSE

"In the perspective of the days ahead, what we have done will turn out to have been the proper course . . . the course of reason and of common sense," said Mr. Diefenbaker.

Opposition Leader Pearson blasted the government action as an "unjust" method, even though he agreed that the strike had to be stopped.

"We cannot vote to force men to work for wages judged to be substandard," he said.

CRITICAL OF DELAY

CCF Leader Argue hit the government for delaying its action until the strike could be averted but without solving the basic wage issue underlying it.

Unfair Says Pearson

OTTAWA (UPI)—The Diefenbaker government's anti-rail strike legislation hardly had its ink dried last night before opposition leader Lester Pearson was carrying the Liberal party's case against it to the people in a nation-wide radio hook-up.

Pearson used his time on "The Nation's Business" series over CBC to charge that railway workers were not being treated fairly by the strike postponement bill.

He said that "parliament should not seek by legislation to force men to continue to work for wages which are lower than a conciliation board found to be fair and reasonable after a full, careful and objective inquiry extending over a year and during which every kind of evidence was heard which could be possibly concerned with the issue."

Federal System 'Speared'

OTTAWA (CP) — Senator Arthur Roebuck said Friday the government's bill preventing the railway strike drives a spear through the heart of the federal system for settling labor disputes.

The Toronto Liberal told the Senate shortly before it approved the legislation that the measure makes a farce of collective bargaining.

Senator Roebuck, who often acts in a legal capacity for railway unions, was the only senator who stated he would not vote for the bill.

U.S. Asks Return Of Rocket Bits

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The United States yesterday asked Cuba to return any available fragments of the satellite rocket which fell on the eastern part of the island two days ago after being launched from Cape Canaveral.

The request was made by the state department through Daniel M. Braddock, acting U.S. ambassador in Havana. Braddock also was told to explain to the Cuban foreign ministry how the incident occurred.

LEARN CAUSES

Department press officer Joseph W. Reap said the United States wanted the fragments "in order that they may be identified and analyzed in an effort to learn the causes of malfunction." He said the rocket involved, "has a record of proven reliability."

The Thor-Able-Star rocket, which had been designed to orbit two satellites, developed a malfunction shortly after the launch and was blown up by a safety officer at Cape Canaveral.

STILL OFF COAST

The state department said the decision was made to destroy the rocket when it was still off the coast of Florida and when there was "the greatest possibility of minimizing adverse consequences."

The department said the fact that most of the vehicle fell into the open sea was proof the action was taken at the right time. It added that "unfortunately, according to reports, some fragments of the vehicle fell on Cuban territory."

German Hints Nikita Winner At Red Summit

BERLIN (Reuters) — East German leader Walter Ulbricht said Friday the Moscow summit conference of Communist leaders agreed the East-West balance of forces has "changed so much it is possible to avoid wars."

Ulbricht's statement on his return was the first public mention of any agreement at the three-week talks.

OTHERS' VIEWS

The conference ended Thursday with a communique saying only the delegates of 81 countries had "exchanged experiences and familiarized themselves with each other's views."

Ulbricht added that although developments in different countries were "many-sided and complicated," the conference reached "unity of view."

WAR AVOIDED

Political quarters in West Berlin said Ulbricht's remarks indicated a victory for Premier Khrushchev's line that war can be avoided.

Chinese Communists are reported pessimistic about the possibility of avoiding world war.

In Moscow, meanwhile, Khrushchev gave president Lfu Shao-chi of China the place of honor in a picture published Friday showing the 200 delegates to the Communist summit.

Protestants Protest Papal Visit

LONDON (Reuters) — The British Protestant Alliance last night protested the Archbishop of Canterbury's audience with Pope John.

(See story on Page 18.)

Rev. Robert Hood, an Anglican clergyman, said the visit was "the greatest example of back-sliding and back-pedalling the world has ever seen."

Hood said "with a Roman Catholic president of the United States to lead the free world, and the British heads of government gazing soulfully into the Pope's face, only the blind can fail to see the beginning of a Vatican-centred priest rule of the whole world."

Flaming Tanks Explode

SANTA FE SPRINGS, Calif. (UPI)—A flash fire at the Rothschild Oil Co. refinery last night touched off a series of explosions involving nine huge tanks of high octane gasoline, authorities reported.

Norwalk sheriff's deputies said the nine burning tanks were among a field of 50 tanks and that flames continued at 11 p.m. PST to threaten another 18 tanks in the field.

Fire chief Elmer Gates of the Downey fire department who assisted in fighting the fire, said he believed the fire was touched off by a spark of static electricity.

Officers said no injuries were reported.

Bomb Blasts Wreck Castro Anniversary

HAVANA (UPI)—Bomb terrorists yesterday marked Fidel Castro's observance of the fourth anniversary of his invasion of Cuba which toppled the Fulgencio Batista regime.

Explosions rattled windows in the suburban Vigora and Vedado districts, the first within half a block of an army barracks.

A third bomb went off in a justice ministry courtroom. A fourth was found in a bathroom of the building before it exploded. A fifth unexploded bomb was found near the Cuban Electric Co.

Unconfirmed reports said anti-Castro rebels attempted unsuccessfully last Sunday to kill a top Castro aide. He was said to have escaped the ambush but three bodyguards were killed.

Tough Talk

HAVANA (UPI)—Cuba has warned other sugar-producing countries that it is prepared to wage the "most pitiless competition" unless world sugar quotas are revised to overcome its loss of the U.S. market, Commerce Minister Raul Cepero Bonilla reported yesterday.

Cepero Bonilla added that most members of the world sugar council "showed sympathy in private for the point of view of the Cuban delegation in connection with the international sugar situation."

North Pacific 'Buzzing'

Watch Out for Reds U.S. Airlines Told

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Soviet planes have tried to intercept U.S. planes recently near the Kurile Islands in the northwest Pacific, the Federal Aviation Agency disclosed Friday.

A spokesman said the FAA has issued a "notice to airmen" urging U.S. pilots to avoid intrusion on Russian territory in the area.

The FAA cannot give details of the "buzzing and attempted interception" of planes because these have been classified by the state department, the spokesman added.

But the directive was directed particularly at the two U.S. airlines flying a route near the Kuriles — Northwest Orient and Pan American.

ALL ABOARD

With G. E. Mortimore

OUR great-grandchildren are not represented in Parliament. Therefore we can foul and use up their world without hindrance.

We can—and do—wreck the forests, loot the soil by greedy farming, and clog the air and water with poisons.

We are merely tenants in the world, but we act like spendthrift owners on a binge.

Luckily, our great-grandchildren seem to be finding a voice. People are forming groups to speak for them: Conservation societies that try to guard the earth, air and water, the living space, the animals, birds and plants from wasteful attack, and see that all these resources are properly used, for our own time and the future.

These conservation groups are small. People don't like working for far-away things. They don't like craning their necks to see around corners.

"I'm living today," they declare. "What's in it for me?"

Well, what is in it for one man, or one family? A better world, and the hope of staying alive and healthy. That's the answer. We can help our great-grandchildren and ourselves at the same time.

Los Angeles and other big towns are being choked by smog, for which car exhausts are chiefly to blame. Suppose we launch a campaign to make automobile companies fit their cars with special exhaust gadgets, to reduce poisonous carbon monoxide fumes. Is that a short-range project or a long-range project?

It is both. The shareholders of Colossal Car Company may get a dollar less in dividends. But they breathe cleaner air.

Persuade Joe not to dump his garbage in the creek, and make him bury it instead. Joe has some extra work. But his neighbors downstream have cleaner water. Joe has better-tempered neighbors.

The future starts now. I'm sorry if that sounds like a gem from the Reader's Digest. It's true all the same.

Conservation fits in with enlightened self-interest. It costs some people sacrifices. But the gain far outweighs the loss.

Conservation includes a plan to save our farmland from subdivisions and our scenery from billboards. It includes earth, air, water, space and the delights of the eye.

Some radicals believe that conservation should also include plans to keep the human race alive. I agree with them. Personally, I believe in the big conservation package, which includes measures to prevent war, disease, poverty (spiritual and material) and overpopulation.

Certain other people prefer the small household size, no conservation at all. They expect to save money by their thrift. I think they will lose by it. Perhaps they will lose everything they have.

The big public-interest foundations and educational funds can help in two ways: By making the thoughtful people think some more, and by persuading the thoughtless people—through advertising—that conservation is good for them. It really is just as sweet and just as useful as soap or underarm smell ointment. But people need to be told.

A campaign like this would be almost as good as electing a member of parliament to speak for the riding of Posterity.

'Bicarb' Habit May Harm You

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, MD

"Dear Dr. Molner: My son takes a teaspoon of bicarbonate of soda in a glass of orange juice every morning, and my daughter is also always taking it for nervous indigestion. She says the soda relieves her and removes gas. What do you think?—M. F."

The "bicarbonate habit" exists quite widely, but I can't see any good excuse for it, and I can see some harm in some cases.

First, it can be distinctly harmful for anyone on a low-sodium (low salt) diet.

Second, the stomach is supposed to be somewhat acid to digest food. The body itself provides traces of hydrochloric acid for this purpose, and some people, lacking enough of the acid, are very much relieved when it is administered medically — naturally in very small and dilute amounts. Too much bicarbonate upsets the naturally acid condition of the stomach.

"Dear Dr. Molner: My wife suffers terribly from pinworms. We have tried everything in the drugstore. A doctor gave her pills for a 10-day treatment. There is nothing so far that will help more than a couple of months and then the problem is back again.—A. C. B."

Curing pinworms — getting rid of these parasites—is unlike curing a good many other diseases, because you can't develop an immunity to the parasites.

Starting with a reasonably good medication, the important part of the treatment depends on using the medication properly — checking, and if need be, treating all members of the family.

For, you see, a person may get rid the the pests, but in a few weeks develop the trouble all over again by picking up a pinworm anew.

In your case—your wife's, that is—the answer may well lie in this one suggestion: Treat everyone in the family, including yourself. Thereby you may eliminate the source.

"Dear Dr. Molner: We see many people with one drooping shoulder, usually the right. Would old-fashioned shoulder braces correct this? — Mrs. P. A. S."

I doubt it. These "drooping shoulders" are usually the result of (1) some quirk in development of the body, or (2) a defect in posture.

Few of us are perfectly symmetrical. Perhaps nobody is. The right side of the face virtually never is exactly like the left. So in cases of "droopy shoulder" I'd forget about it unless it is severe. If it is severe, I would consult an orthopedist.

Manacled Lumumba Returns To Face Trial for 'Revolt'

LEOPOLDVILLE (AP)—Seized in the interior, Patrice Lumumba was manacled and flown back to Leopoldville Friday to face trial on a charge of inciting the army to revolt. He was shoved and manhandled as soldiers hurried him off to jail.

At the same time the UN reported virtually the entire white population of Stanleyville—more than 1,000—was arrested and ill-treated last Sunday by police supporting Lumumba.

THIRD OF WAY

The ex-premier slipped past an army guard here Sunday and apparently headed for Stanleyville. He was seized at Port Francqui, about a third of the way, by forces loyal to Col. Joseph Mobutu.

Beaming with pleasure, Mobutu said Lumumba will be tried for other charges besides the charge of inciting the army to rebellion.

TWISTED HEAD

While Mobutu looked on at the jail with arms folded, soldiers took Lumumba out of the truck that brought him from the airport. They grabbed him by the hair and twisted his head around for photographers. They shoved him fiercely across the dusty grounds. A handful of onlookers yelled: "Death to Lumumba!"

At the UN, Russia declared that Secretary-General Hammarskjold and the UN command in the Congo are "directly responsible" for Lumumba's safety.

OBSERVE LAW

But even before Russia issued its statement, Hammarskjold, prodded by Afro-Asian members who feared Lumumba might be executed, sent a telegram to President Kasavubu urging "due process of law" be observed in Lumumba's treatment.

Brig. S. J. A. Otu of Ghana said the Stanleyville arrests sought to check if whites had identity cards.

"More than 70 persons, including four women and one child, were kept in a small room without ventilation, food, water or conveniences," he said.

'Politicians' Fighting Check-Off

A spokesman for building trades yesterday attacked the B.C. Federation of Construction Associations for requesting repeal of the union dues check-off.

Victor Midgley termed the organization "just an offshoot of the B.C. Federation of Trade and Industry."

JUST POLITICIANS

Mr. Midgley said: "As far as I'm concerned, it's just a bunch of politicians. I would like to know where they were set up, who set them up and where is their charter?"

Questioning the motives of the group, which claimed in a brief to the cabinet Thursday that it represented 700 B.C. construction and contracting firms, Mr. Midgley said the check-off doesn't affect the construction industry.

AT UNION HALL

"Building trades don't have dues check-off," he said. "Our members have always paid their dues to the secretary at the union hall."

Mr. Midgley offered this as proof that the group had little or none of the affiliation it claimed with the construction industry, but rather represented "the privileged few."

VERY FEW KNEW

He said a poll of contractors in Victoria yesterday indicated "Only one or two" knew of the brief's contents.

CCF leader Robert Strachan said the proposal was in line with the "obvious policy of attempting to break down and weaken the trade unions in our province."

$9,200,000 Lost to Fire

Latest figures issued by the B.C. forest service—and they're still only preliminary estimates—show the total cost of forest fires this year exceeded $9,200,000.

The figure falls quite a bit short of the all-time record of $14,400,000 worth of destruction caused by fires in 1958.

Total area burned this year was 285,820 acres, a far cry from the 2,065,420 acres in 1958.

Premiers' Parley 'Great Success' —More to Come

QUEBEC CITY (UPI) — The first modern-day premiers' conference ended Friday with a promise to make the conferences an annual affair.

"This conference was definitely a great success," said guest chairman Premier Leslie Frost of Ontario.

MAN TO MAN

"The greatest man-to-man meeting between provincial premiers since 1887, and it gave birth to collaboration between provinces to iron out amongst themselves their respective inter-provincial problems."

Following the adjournment of the two-day meetings, it was announced the premiers have agreed to meet next August in Charlottetown, P.E.I.

"The major objective of this meeting was to reach inter-provincial co-operation on a permanent basis and this we had done," said host Premier Jean Lesage of Quebec, who convoked the meetings.

A permanent secretariat will be set up. Frost said that, until then, correspondence will be handled through a special office which he will establish.

WORKED OUT

Final details of the permanent secretariat will be worked out at Charlottetown.

In a joint communique, the premiers said federal-provincial conferences were a "very necessary means of helping our constitution work." But they emphasized that "in no sense could the premiers' conference substitute in whole or in part for a federal-provincial conference."

Church Helps Haunted Girl

EDINBURGH (AP) — Doctors and clergymen are successfully ending the spooky ordeals of an 11-year-old Irish girl haunted by abnormal phenomena, the Church of Scotland said Friday night.

The church issued a formal statement signed by two doctors and a minister describing the strange things they saw while keeping watch at night over Virginia Campbell.

Virginia came to the village of Sauchie two months ago from County Donegal, supposed heart of leprechaun country.

The three men and other observers heard "knocking and scraping" as they watched over the girl. They saw pillows moving, bedclothes "rippling" and "violent opening and shutting" of a linen basket which moved.

Kill 'About 18 People' Goal of Runaway Boy

VANCOUVER (CP)—Police laid a charge of robbery against a 14-year-old runaway boy who said he wanted to be a gangster and kill "about 18 people." The boy was charged after an alleged attack on a young woman who lost her purse and was thrown to the ground.

Cabinet Reverse

Leftist Mob Sways Premier of Laos

VIENTIANE (Reuters) — A shouting left-wing crowd that surrounded Laos' National Assembly Friday was reported to have wrung a promise from the neutralist government that it would not accept right-wing rebel chiefs in a proposed coalition cabinet.

Crowd leaders met neutralist Premier Prince Souvanna Phouma on the steps of his office and claimed later the premier pledged he would not accept the two leaders of the right-wing revolt.

NO TALKING

The leaders said Souvanna also agreed not to enter into direct negotiations with the right-wing leaders, Gen. Phoumi Nosavan and Prince Boun Oum.

A spokesman for the neutralist regime said Thursday that Phoumi had agreed to the formation of a "reconciliation government" which would not specifically exclude the pro-Communist Pathet Lao movement.

MPs Attack 'Monopoly' Press Trend

LONDON (Reuters)—Labor members Friday called for a committee to investigate the British press as a result of what was termed a "monopolistic trend" which has seen 42 newspapers shut down or closed since 1957.

One member also said the newspaper situation should be referred to the monopolies commission.

Kenneth Robinson told the Commons three newspaper groups now control 75 per cent of the national daily newspaper circulation and two groups now control virtually all the periodicals.

Robinson also termed the entry of Canadian publisher Roy Thomson into the British newspaper field "alarming" and said he already controlled 82 newspapers in Britain and elsewhere and was reported to want to control 100.

Buy Christmas Tree, Pirates Warned

Yuletide loggers bent on cutting their own Christmas trees this year were warned by B.C. forest service yesterday.

"The best advice we can give is to leave that axe at home and buy your tree from a lot downtown. It will probably be much cheaper in the long run."

A careful check on Christmas tree pirates was promised in the coming few weeks.

The only way a person can safely cut a tree is by first obtaining permission in writing from the owner of the land on which the tree is growing. This written permission must be available for presentation to RCMP at various checkpoints.

No permits are given to cut trees on Crown land.

The forest service takes this stand because coast trees are of such high quality.

Solidarity Undermined

PREDICTIONS that the "New Party" which will make its entry into Canadian politics next year would undermine the solidarity of organized labor are being borne out. With the wedding plans of the CCF and the Canadian Labor Congress still incomplete, the trade union movement in this region already has lost some of its strength.

Recently the Victoria branch of the B.C. Government Employees' Association renounced all connection with the B.C. Federation of Labor, which is the parent body of CLC affiliates in this province. There is more than a possibility that the association as a whole will go the same way before long.

Although attempts have been made to blame this disaffection on the government's action in withdrawing the dues check-off privilege, enough has been said by officials and members of the civil servants' association to show that the root cause is displeasure with the federation's involvement in partisan politics, plus determination to live up to the association's constitutional obligation to refrain from political action.

Closely following on the BCGEA action in Victoria comes the almost unanimous resolution of the Victoria Automotive Maintenance Workers' Union not to give support to any political party.

There can be no ambiguity about that decision, and it must be a severe blow not only to CCF hopes of being able to enlist the backing of all unions but also to the federation and the CLC, to which unity means more almost than the principles for which they stand.

It is apparent that even so early the rot has set in; and it is inevitable that it should spread.

The great mistake made by both parties to the merger is in believing that the CLC can continue to command the confidence and adherence of all unionists when it adds partisan politics to its legitimate aim, which is the betterment of working conditions.

To assume that every trade unionist is a socialist and a supporter of the CCF is to assume that every man wearing a black hat is an undertaker. The unions of Canada, many of them much older than the CCF, contain men and women of all political parties; and from election results it is obvious that supporters of other parties far outnumber those who vote CCF. To attempt to enroll them in the New Party could cause incalculable harm to the entire trade union movement.

A Use for the Totems

IT IS a pity that the totem carving of Mr. Mungo Martin and his associate should have to stop with the approach of winter. In all conscience this is an inexpensive venture. It is rather an airy approach also for Mr. Peterson to say it is up to the community to keep this work going. It began as a creditable responsibility of the provincial government.

Initially the program was designed to embellish Thunderbird Park and to keep alive this ancient Indian craft. That is still an important aspect. In the modern world more and more of these rare accomplishments are disappearing.

True enough Thunderbird Park cannot accommodate all the productions of Mr. Hunt and family, and there arises the problem of finding markets for the totem poles. One such market appears to be overlooked.

Mr. Peterson has mentioned that the totem carving is a tourist asset for Victoria, and so it is in summer. Not in winter, however, which puts the Hunt family in a predicament if proper budgetary arrangements are not made.

Tourism is not confined to this city but is province-wide, and it is herein that good use might be made of these valuable examples of native skill. The totem pole is symbolic of this province and is so used by the provincial tourist bureau.

The use might be widened. A small totem pole would arouse more interest than a hundred posters, for instance, if this symbol were spread around the other provinces and neighboring states across the line. Curiosity is what induces people to visit other places and the totems would invite closer acquaintance.

On all counts these carvings could be used to advantage in promoting B.C. tourism as a whole. We commend the idea to the provincial tourist bureau, which is always anxious to further the appeal which B.C. holds for visitors. Here is an asset right to hand which speaks for B.C. as representative of its original cultures.

Quick Freeze Tourists?

A MR. WILFRED ORGAN has advised delegates to the annual federal-provincial tourist conference to sell Canada's winters as warm and colorful things if they hope to encourage more tourists.

Who is Mr. Organ? Could he be a representative of Victoria, selling, with every justification, the year-round balmy weather of this delectable island? Or a spokesman of this capital city's largest suburb, Vancouver? Or, perhaps a delegate from La Belle Provence, whose somewhat less than tropical winter is made up for by local color?

At very least it would be reasonable to suspect that Mr. Organ comes from one of the more temperate climes of Canada to make such a proposition in all seriousness.

But no.

He is none other than the director of the travel and publicity bureau of the province of Manitoba. Of all places, Manitoba.

True, that province's sweeping prairies and myriad lakes have beauty; it is the home of great football players, the grain exchange and friendly, openhearted people. But as for warm, colorful winters—this it hasn't got.

Ask any Manitoban how warm he is standing at the corner of Portage and Main when the temperature is registering 35 below with a stiff 30-mile-an-hour breeze whistling about his earmuffs. Ask him how he feels about Mr. Organ's suggestion that Manitobans "dress in colorful attire—with hats off, if possible and wearing happy, smiling faces" just to show how much they enjoy it and thereby attracting more tourists.

You would get a quick answer. But it is a safe bet that Mr. Organ wouldn't like it and it is certain that it wouldn't be of any use in tourist literature—unabridged, anyway.

Interpreting the News

U.S. Election Doubts

By HAROLD MORRISON, Canadian Press Staff Writer

A MASSIVE Republican effort to upset John Kennedy's presidential victory through allegations of widespread fraud is unlikely to achieve its prime purpose. But it may cause an embarrassing delay in public certainty that the Democrat will rule next January.

Republican charges of political skulduggery centre mainly on Cook County, Illinois, which includes Chicago, notorious for its crime and political legerdemain. At least one voting unit has yielded far more ballots than living residents.

Now William Stratton, Republican governor, who lost to a Democrat, says that if further evidence of fraud emerges, the state election board—made up of four Republicans and one Democrat—may refuse to certify the vote. This could prevent the state's 27 electoral pledges to Kennedy from casting their vote on the Dec. 19 deadline.

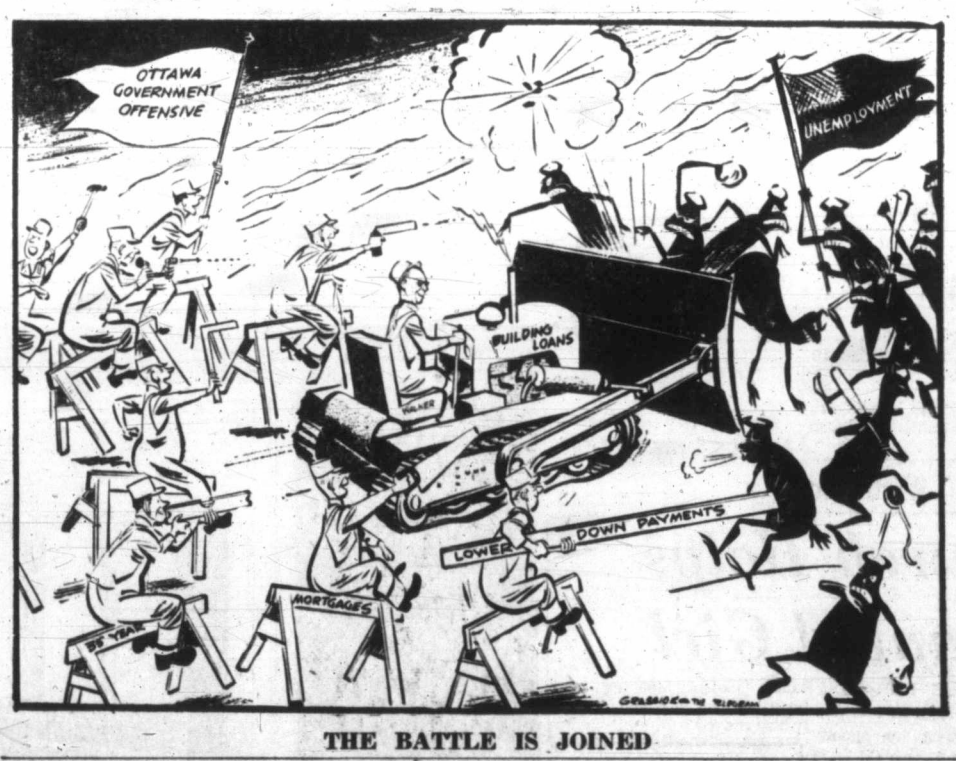

Kennedy currently has 300 pledged electoral votes with only 260 required to win. Eliminating Illinois from the count would reduce his total to 273, the slimmest margin in 84 years. This still would be enough to win, but the danger to Kennedy is that the narrow edge may arouse new southern temptations to bolt pledges.

Under the complex American election system, there is no law to prevent an elector from bolting his pledge. A few have done so in the past. Kennedy's promise to aid Negroes is opposed by the South. Louisiana, with 10 electoral votes pledged to Kennedy, talked recently of revolt but nothing came of it. Still, the threat is there.

If the votes cast by all the state electors Dec. 10 show Kennedy hasn't at least 260 votes, the choice of a president will be thrown into the House of Representatives, where each state delegation would be able to cast only one vote, with the winner requiring at least 26 of the 50 delegations.

As it stands now, 29 of the delegations would be made up of Democrats, 17 of Republicans and the other four would be split evenly between the two parties.

The Democratic hierarchy is certain that even under such circumstances Kennedy would still win. But the House vote would not be taken until Jan. 6, two weeks before inauguration day. The embarrassment for Kennedy would include the prospect of facing enormous state pressures forcing him to make certain commitments in order to secure the state vote.

THE BATTLE IS JOINED

Canada Highest

Expenditure On Roads

(Bank of Montreal Review)

CANADA'S per capita expenditure on roads and streets is now the highest in the world and the same holds good for expenditure per registered vehicle.

The motor vehicle has probably given rise to more rapid and profound economic and social changes than any other innovation in history. In the relatively short span of two or three generations since its introduction around the turn of the century, its effects have been felt at a rapidly accelerating rate, especially in the past decade.

The handful of horseless carriages that are known to have existed in Canada in 1900 gave way to over a million passenger cars, trucks and motorcycles by 1928. With the succeeding depression and the Second World War it was 20 years before the number rose to 2,000,000. A third million was added in the next four years, a fourth million in the next three years and in 1959 there were over five million motor vehicles registered in Canada. In addition, visitors account for the entry of nine million vehicles into Canada annually, over two million of which remain longer than 48 hours or travel beyond the local port of entry.

These swelling hordes of vehicles all need roads, within cities and linking cities.

Towards this end the completion of new surfaced roads has been given a high priority by all levels of government, with 70 per cent, or 120,000 miles—40 times the breadth of Canada—being added in the past decade.

Furthermore, mileage is not the only yardstick. For yesterday's narrow paved roads cannot compare with today's wide highways.

In a very real sense, therefore, the increase in mileage in the past ten years has provided much more driving space than the figures of mileage alone would indicate.

But where to build new roads presents something of a dilemma to those making the decisions. Ours is a relatively thinly populated country and the desire to link together centres of population, often widely scattered, has to compete for priority with the adequate servicing of the more populous centres."

By and large, local governments have paid for local streets and roads—the byways of the nation—while the much more expensive inter-urban highways have been paid for largely by the provinces.

Ever since Confederation the federal government has come into the picture although federally-financed construction was on a comparatively small scale prior to the Trans-Canada Highway Act of 1949.

Now, a decade later, the Trans-Canada Highway is open to traffic over its entire length from St. John's, Nfld., to Victoria, with the single exception of a 90-mile gap in the Rockies, and this gap probably will be closed within a year. Normally, Ottawa pays for half the cost.

In addition, in 1957, the federal authorities launched the roads-to-resources program, a cost-sharing arrangement to help provinces build roads that otherwise would probably not be built at this time.

Thus in 10 years road expenditure has multiplied three times over, to the point where we now spend more per person on roads than any other people in the world.

Reports from Ottawa

IN the States you can get a government-backed mortgage to buy a second-hand home, but not in Canada, for all the loosening of the National Housing Act by Parliament last week.

J. W. Murphy, the veteran Conservative MP from Ontario's sugar beet country, called the Commons' attention to this deficiency in the legislation. Works Minister Walker replied with words that usually mean a brushoff—he would take the suggestion under consideration.

In fact, I learn from other sources that are quite as authoritative as Mr. Walker, no consideration is being given to this proposal—and none will be at this time.

NHA mortgages for older homes would really yank the plug on the stagnant housing industry. And the fact that the government is not yanking this plug is a measure of the government's estimate of the seriousness of the business turn-down. The government is not yet ready to go all out.

Murphy pointed out that a great many persons owning older homes no longer need as much room now that their sons and daughters are grown. Other families in older homes need more space because children are more numerous or older than when the homes were bought.

Both types of families would be better off in more suitable quarters; but in many cases, probably most cases, the factor that perpetuates their financial and environmental handicaps is lack of purchasers for their present homes.

The loan, trust and insurance companies have a virtual monopoly on the business of lending money for the purchase of older housing, and their loan terms are nowhere near as generous as the terms of NHA loans. The interest rate is higher, the mortgage period shorter, and most telling of all, the borrower has to make a down payment of 40 per cent of the cost of the house. The mortgage will cover only 60 per cent—far short of the 90 per cent mortgages available under the NHA.

The arguments Ottawa puts forward against NHA mortgages for used homes are that this extension of the NHA would cause a run on the treasury, taking money needed for new housing, and that the sellers would dissipate their money on everything from new cars to trips to Florida.

If the program were limited to government guaranteed loans by private lending institutions there would be no drain on the treasury. No doubt many families who now cannot afford anything but new homes, due to the down payment difference, would prefer older homes. But the net number of families that must have housing would not be likely to decrease. Those who sold would go into new homes or new apartments. And to transmute a lot of stagnant housing capital into cars and other consumer goods would do the economy a great deal of good.

There also intrudes the thought, perhaps naive, that the ever-increasing pressure to sell people new homes in a saturated market situation is unfair discrimination against the owners of older homes. These owners are in sales competition with the government-subsidized mass builders — and are paying taxes to subsidize their competitors!

The Packsack

TV's Animated Monsters

By GREGORY CLARK

WHEN TV first started, it was found too expensive to employ human beings to speak the commercials. So the commercials were handed over to little animated cartoons. Then, as TV began to be profitable, human announcers were hired to stand before the cameras and speak their little pieces.

Since they sounded like schoolboys and schoolgirls making their valedictory addresses, it soon became apparent that the viewers were not paying any attention to them. So back went TV to the little animated cartoons. If the public would not listen to the normal human voice of a hand-picked handsome young man or a beautifully made-up young lady, maybe they would listen to the squeaks, squawks and giggling of mice, rabbits, or entirely imaginary little monsters screaming not quite human sound.

Billions of dollars worth of merchandise has been sold during this period, which justifies TV in thinking that animated cartoons of miniature monsters with barely intelligible voices can sell. It has not occurred to TV that the goods might have sold anyway. People are interested in goods.

Just recently, however, doubt appears to have been born in TV's mind. They are now giving the commercials to human figures again; but these figures are jerked about as if they were animated cartoons. It seems to be a difficult problem to persuade the viewing public to show any gratitude for all the costly entertainment provided for them.

Out of the Fry-Pan

Farmers and Labor

(From the Saskatoon Star-Phoenix)

THE absurdity of forming a political party designed to serve the interests of both farmers and labor has once again been amply demonstrated by the recent west coast grain handlers' strike. Canadian farmers faced an impossible choice in the settlement of this dispute, involving 325 organized employees of the west coast terminals.

Confronted by a recent warning from Mr. W. C. McNamara, chief commissioner of the Canadian Wheat Board, that the vital Asian grain market was imperilled by strike-induced delivery delays, some farmers were tempted to advocate speedy settlement of the dispute in order to get the grain moving as soon as possible.

Many farmers realized, however, that the 14 per cent wage increase, and other benefits, sought by the terminal workers, would considerably increase the cost of delivering grain and thereby further undermine Canada's competitive position on the world wheat market.

According to the Financial Post, in 1957 Saskatchewan farmers had an average personal cash income of $1,244. Saskatchewan's Agriculture Minister Nollet has subsequently revised this figure downward in succeeding years. This wage level does not compare too favorably with the gross income of more than $4,900 per year obtained by unskilled sweepers in the west coast grain terminals. The average wage to union grain handlers at the west coast is a gross of about $5,100 per year.

In the light of these considerations, it is hard to visualize the community of interest between farmers and laborers in a political movement. Farmers, lacking the organizational unity of trade unionists, would soon find themselves allied with a political group further fostering this already great income disparity between organized labor and farm producers.

Atomic Waste

Problem of The Century

By RON COLLISTER, from Washington

THE means to dispose of deadly atomic waste are lagging far behind the galloping pace and refinement of the nuclear age. And, of course, this gap will lengthen with each new space rocket, satellite, power station, atomic missile and atomic-powered aircraft.

Before these jitters are soothed, public opinion may have to accept that, in peace or war, a nuclear-powered society can never be as safe as the society of the old steam engine. Absolute safety is impossible while waste continues to live. And live it will—for hundreds of years.

In underground tanks in the United States today there are 65,000,000 gallons of high-level atomic waste, accumulated over the years. This is a million times more concentrated than "low-level" waste. Billions of gallons of "low-level" wastes are produced each year, treated and dispersed—in the air, the ground, in the sea.

Some of it has been dumped in an old ammunition-dumping area 200 miles south of Yarmouth, Nova Scotia. The Nova Scotia government asked the Canadian government to investigate reports of U.S. dumping in the area. The U.S. Atomic Energy commision countered that it had authorized two companies to dump low-level waste in the area but neither has done so—yet.

However, a spokesman has now admitted that the commission itself probably dumped waste there about four years ago. While checking into Nova Scotia's complaint, he said, "one of our men said he recalled that a small quantity was dumped there. It would probably be laboratory trash, pieces of broken glass, rags, wipers, used in an atomic laboratory. There might also be some irradiated animal carcases."

All this kind of waste, he said, is packaged in 55-gallon steel drums, which are filled with concrete.

"The theory of this," he added, "is that we would not be alarmed if these drums eventually do leak because the ocean will absorb the low-level radioactivity and wash it away. This could occur in 10 years."

The commission, he said, had made surveys of their old dumping site in Boston Harbor. No radioactivity over and above normal had been found.

But the high-level wastes present the great, incurable headache of the nuclear age.

The joint committee on atomic energy, after hearings on industrial radioactive waste disposal, concluded that there had been no harm to the public, but monitoring waste had cost the federal government $200,000,000 in capital outlay and costs $6,000,000 to maintain. This monitoring must continue for "generations."

The final disposal of this high-level waste, while safely contained for the present and immediate future, "has not yet been solved in a practical, long-range, engineering sense."

The practice today is to reduce high-level waste to more manageable volume, then hold it in tanks. Suggestions for its final disposal include: conversion of solids; storage of these solids in salt beds; disposal of liquids or solids in the sea.

The conversion to solids and storage in salt formations is most favored. The least favored is disposal at sea.

The atomic energy committee expects that within 25 years, a "fool-proof" method of turning the wastes into solids will have been found.

At that time, the wastes will still be very much alive. The wastes become inactive only by natural decay, and need guaranteed supervision and control for hundreds of eyars.

Besides the waste problems of industry, there is the problem of the nuclear-powered ship and submarine. The main source of waste is the reactor-coolant water, which contains small quantities of radioactivity. It is assumed that the discharged waste will be diluted in the harbor.

★ ★ ★

Under favorable conditions, the Atomic Energy Committee reported, "substantial amounts of low-level waste can be discharged in inland waterways."

There was no effect on fish population in the Columbia River as a result of the operation of the nearby Hanford Reactor.

The use of ocean deeps for disposal of high-level waste may be possible, but other methods appear more promising.

Disposal in the sea and the operation of nuclear-propelled vessels and aircraft makes disposal a matter for international agreement.

Geographically, no nation is involved so deeply in the side effects of U.S. progress in the nuclear age as Canada.

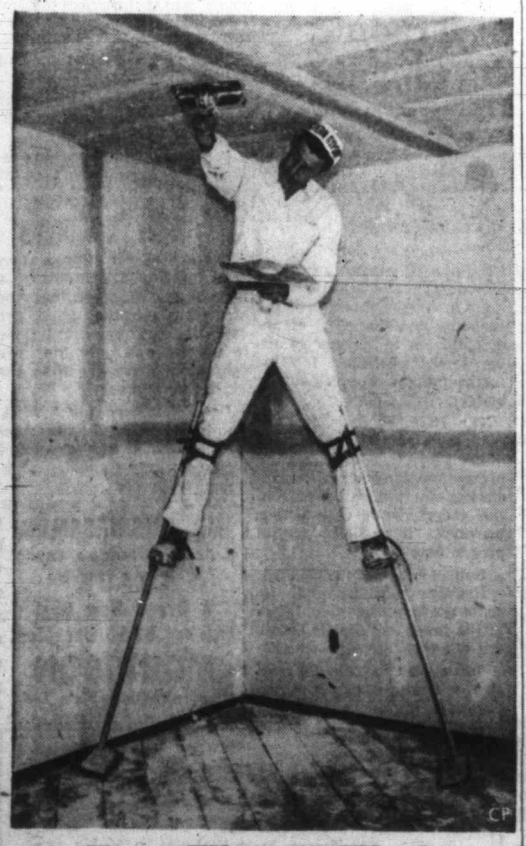

The international Atomic Energy Agency is now studying this problem.

Prairie Town Weeps At Mass Requiem

Easy Way to Work

Adjustable aluminum stilts save time and money on the job, says South Burnaby plasterer Lloyd Skramstad. Before he started using them, he says, he needed a two-ton truck to carry sawhorses and planks for scaffolds now he goes to work in family car.

3,000 See Victims Of Crash

CHIPMAN, Alta. (CP) — Parents, relatives and neighbors numbering more than 3,000 marched in solemn procession Friday night past the open caskets of 16 Chipman district teen-agers who died Tuesday in the collision of a freight train and a school bus.

Sturdy farmers knelt and wept as they entered the auditorium-gymnasium of Chipman elementary school to pray with their kin before the bodies of their children. Services of four faiths included portions of five different tongues, reflecting the origins of this predominantly Ukrainian settlement.

ALL-NIGHT VIGIL

Hundreds were unable to enter the crowded building. An hour after the service started highways leading to the town were still crowded with cars arriving for services which would extend into an all-night vigil.

Funeral services were held earlier Friday in Edmonton for the 17th victim, Darleen Reinhardt, 16, and she was buried there.

MOST CRYING

In emotion-charged Chipman, most were crying.

Requiem services were conducted for four faiths: Roman Catholic, Ukrainian Catholic, Russian Greek Orthodox, and Ukrainian Orthodox.

A 20-voice choir from the Ukrainian community of Mundare, Alta., sang for the services, conducted by visiting priests. The village of 200 has no full-time clergyman.

STREETS PACKED

Village streets were packed with the cars and trucks of the visitors. After the services many went to the national hall for coffee, sandwiches and doughnuts.

Throughout the night, prayers were to continue by relatives keeping vigil at the school.

Grieving Kin Found Dead

EDMONTON (CP) — The smashed body of a 38-year-old Edmonton man has been found on the ice of the North Saskatchewan River below the high level bridge.

Relatives told police the man, whose name was not released, had been grieving over the death of a young relative in the collision near Lamont, Alta., of a school bus and a train.

Last Holdouts Surrender Before Venezuelan Tanks

CARACAS (AP)—The last of the holdout students surrendered before a Venezuelan government showing of tanks Friday and abandoned their rebel fortress at Caracas University.

With machine guns and other arms, they had held out against the troops o. President Romulo Betancourt for a week.

Government troop reinforcements had been flown in all day from bases in the interior for the final cleanup of resistance.

Deaths of a woman doctor and a soldier by snipers' bullets Friday brought to 11 the number of persons killed in the battles.

White Mother:

Beating by Mob Beats Beating By Conscience

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — For two weeks, Daisey Josephine Gabrielle has led her six-year-old daughter past howling pickets into integrated William Franz school.

"I think I lost 10 years of my life the night I made that final decision," said the 42-year-old mother of six.

Outside her sparsely-furnished housing project apartment, two plainclothes detectives sat in a parked, unmarked car.

"I pulled Yolanda out Monday," she said. "I was so scared. Who am I to fight the whole state of Louisiana and the governor, I asked myself.

"But that night, my conscience tore at me. Are you going to give in to a mob? I knew if I gave up the minister would give up too and there'd be no white child left."

Rev. Lloyd Foreman was the only other white parent taking his daughter to Frantz.

"Whatever it was, I heard an inner voice. And when I got up that morning I told my husband Jerry, I'm taking Yolanda back. All those women yell, 'We hate Niggers.' I don't hate any race or creed.

"Jerry said: 'Go ahead, I'm with you.'

"Even when those screaming women shoved me, I closed myself in. I didn't hear their voices.

"I felt at peace with myself. You know, I'd rather take a beating from a mob than from my conscience."

Friday was the brightest day for Mrs. Gabrielle since integration started Nov. 14. Ten white children went to Frantz and she got nearly two dozen telegrams and letters—not one from a crank. All praised her courage.

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) —The state House of Representatives yesterday passed a key bill to provide grant-in-aid funds for integration-hating parents who wish to send their children to private schools.

Two-Day Outburst

Fiery Epidemic Kills 30 in U.S.

By United Press International

A deadly outburst of home fires over a two-day period has wiped out families and claimed lives in wholesale lots in the U.S.

At least 30 persons, 22 of them children, died by fire or from the allied menace of gas fumes Thursday and Friday.

TAX TO DANGER

At least 25 of the victims died in the south, where the coldest weather of the season taxed heating appliances to the danger point.

Worst single tragedy occurred Friday at Newport, Md. A pre-dawn fire roared through a building housing 17 persons and seven of them died. The dead included five children.

GENERAL ALARM

Four more children died at Huntingdon, Pa., when a general-alarm fire swept a two-storey apartment house. The victims were the two sons and two daughters of the Raymond Barger family. Their mother escaped and the father was not at home.

In Charleston, S.C., a young woman and her niece were suffocated by the fumes of a gas heater and three small brothers were asphyxiated by some from a couch fire in their home.

At Salisbury, N.C., a two-year-old girl died in another Friday home fire.

Thursday's victims were all in the south. Home fires, practically all of them touched off by faulty heating systems, killed three persons in South Carolina. Four children died when a wood-burning heater set fire to their Birmingham, Ala., home and an identical tragedy killed three children at Nashville, Tenn. Two men died in Texas fires.

City Twins Both Retire

William Harker and his twin sister Elsie both retired from their separate jobs this week, after many years of service.

Mr. Harker has served 32 years with the B.C. Telephone Co. and his sister 34 years with the Canadian customs branch.

B.C. Streamlines Court Procedure

B.C.'s Supreme Court will operate under new, streamlined rules beginning next year, rules designed to speed up procedure and including for the first time in Canada provision for pre-trial conferences between the judge and opposing parties.

Another facet of the new procedure is extension of discretion to the judge in civil actions on the admissibility of recordings and films as evidence.

FIRST TIME

Judges already have such discretion in criminal actions and a recording was used as Crown evidence in a fraud case here in 1959, believed the first time in Canada.

Attorney-General Bonner, announcing the new rules Friday, said it was hoped they would speed court procedures. The new rules are the work of the late deputy attorney-general Col. Eric Pepler, Vancouver lawyer George Murray and committees of the bar.

FIVE YEARS

They involved studies of procedures in the U.S., other provinces and England over the last five years.

They become effective Jan. 1.

The pre-trial conference provision was adopted from U.S. procedure. At present the only pre-trial meeting is an examination for discovery where opposing parties exchange documents and define the issues of the case. But the judge is not present.

SPEEDING TRIALS

Other changes are mostly technical clarification, aimed at speeding trials.

Mr. Bonner said extension of evidence admission to recordings, films and the like—at the judge's discretion—in civil actions came about simply through a widening of the definition of the word "document."

SAANICH HOME

In April, 1959, detectives working on a Victoria fraud case planted tape-recording equipment in the basement of the home of a Saanich man they believed was the intended victim of fraud. A microphone was planted behind a chesterfield in the living room and a conversation between the intended victim and the suspect was recorded.

The recording was later admitted as Crown evidence by Assize Court Justice Thomas Brown, one of the first times such evidence was admitted.

Food Shares Lead Rally At New York

NEW YORK (UPI) — The normally staid food shares took on a new aura of glamor and helped lift the stock market into firmer ground for the first time in a week.

Borden, which has already been cashing in on its diet product, rose 5¼. Other food gainers included Gerber 2, Pet Milk 4⅛, Quaker Oats 4, General Foods 1½ and Fairmont 1⅞.

The section completely overshadowed all other groups and even helped boost Chock Full o'Nuts 2⅝, Coca-Cola 1⅝ and Frank Shattuck over 1. Some good gains were also recorded by the electronics, a few drugs, aircrafts, motion pictures and building materials.

U.S. Steel was conspicuous in that section by rising 1⅝ while Youngstown added ⅛ despite a report of lower operations in its area next week.

Jersey Standard continued to lose ground, ⅛ point today at 38¼. Chrysler ran up 1⅜ in the motors in the wake of its 50-cent year-ender while American Motors added ¼ point on the reshuffle of its top brass presumably in preparation for more activity in the foreign auto market.

Best Gain of Week

TORONTO (CP) — Industrials scored their best gain in recent sessions as the stock market moved higher during light trade.

Royal Bank, Price Brothers, Algoma, Moore Corp., Acadia Atlantic Sugar, Canada Malting and CPR all gained.

On the losing side were U.S. Ford, Building Products, Great Lakes Paper, Howard Smith and Imperial Bank.

Consolidated Mining and Smelting led base metals down with a loss of ⅝. Noranda eased but International Nickel was ahead.

Nickel Advances

MONTREAL (CP) — The Montreal and Canadian stock exchanges closed fractionally higher today. Trading was light.

Steel of Canada rose ¾ at 63 to lead winners. Gains of ½ were made by B.C. Power at 33½, Royal Bank at 68½, Imperial Oil at 34½ and Interprovincial Pipe Line at 60. Brown Co. at 13, St. Lawrence Corp. at 17⅜, Bell Telephone at 49¼ and Calgary Power at 22⅝ all rose ¼.

Great Lakes Paper eased ⅝ at 38⅝ and Price Bros. at 38¼ was off ¼.

In mines, International Nickel was the biggest winner, up ⅝ at 55¼. Aluminium rose ⅛ at 29½. Consolidated Smelters at 20⅞ eased ⅝ and Hudson Bay fell ¼ at 45.

Highland Bell Rises

VANCOUVER — B.C. Power closed strongly at $33½, up 50 cents and Massey-Ferguson was active and higher at $10⅜. These were the upward features in a mixed industrial list that saw declines in MacMillan-Powell, Trans Canada Pipe and Cold Lake Pipe.

Craigmont on a progress report was active closing slightly below the day's best at 5.45, while Placer Development was higher at $14. Highland Bell was a strong feature, rising 25 cents to 1.75.

Pacific Petroleum advanced a dime at 9.10 in the oils.

London Stock Prices

LONDON (Reuters)—Prices opened generally lower on the stock market, and although there were occasional recoveries, the over-all position was still uncertain.

Shipping shares made good progress following the rise in tanker freight rates.

Gilt-edged securities were dull after a fairly steady opening, while dollar stocks reflected the further fall on Wall Street.

Gold and copper shares were idle and occasionally easier, while other mining sections were neglected.

Oil shares were quietly firm.

Grain Markets

WINNIPEG (CP) — Most grain prices showed a firmer tone in moderately active trade on the Winnipeg grain exchange.

Trade reports indicated that smal parcel lots of flax had been sold to Japan, and there were inquiries from the United Kingdom. The flax market disclosed some buying from international and export accounts and offerings were fairly well absorbed.

CHICAGO (AP)—Grain futures prices shifted with fairly closely limited guidelines both above and below previous closes on the board of trade.

Rye, the exception, was firm most of the day.

A large volume of export busines created a good demand for wheat but purchases to cover the commitments had little more than a steadying effect in the pit.

Bonds Close Week On Same Sour Note

By HARRY YOUNG
Colonist Business Editor

Government of Canada bonds closed out a week of chaotic uncertainty on the same sour note with which they began last Monday.

The prices of government securities dropped from 2½ points in the case of some long-term securities to $1 and less for the shorter terms.

For most of the week all bids were labeled "subject" which meant that dealers were not willing to deal on more than a minute to minute basis.

RAPID FIRE

Fluctuations took place in rapid fire succession, such as is rarely seen in government bonds expect in a period of national emergency.

Few dealers showed any inclination to lengthen their trading positions, and sellers were left out on a limb or were forced to accept unrealistic prices.

The real trouble started following the successful sale of 3 and 4 per cent government short-term bonds during the week. While dealers oversubscribed the public allotment of $200,000,000, the Bank of Canada holding the remainder of the $600,000,000 issue made no attempt to hold the new bonds at the issue price.

BELOW PRICE

Some dealers reported the bank was indeed selling its new bonds below the issue price before dealers had been given an opportunity of completing the distribution to their customers.

A local dealer said the bank's action had "killed all confidence" in Canadian government securities.

Market Trading Chaotic

"Investors are safer at the moment in municipal and corporation bonds. The situation is ridiculous," he added.

"REDUCE TAXES"

The executive council of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce has sent a list of suggestions for the stimulation of the economy and the relief of unemployment to Finance Minister Donald Fleming for his forthcoming supplementary budget.

The chamber asks for tax reductions and selected expenditure projects, adding that the present economic circumstances warrant an increase in the government's cash deficit provided "it is kept within proper bounds."

Budget suggestions included:

Reduction in personal income tax to put additional cash in the taxpayers' hands before the end of January;

Income tax splitting for married persons, easing the tax burden on families;

Substantial reduction in corporation tax to make industry more competitive;

Institution of projects in areas where incidence of unemployment is unusually high;

Try to reduce the high exchange value of the Canadian dollar;

Permit a tax bonus for money spent on research, engineering and design.

Well, there's no harm in asking, even if you don't count the cost!

NEW STEEL APPROVED

Algoma Steel Corporation announces it has produced a new grade of steel that for structural purposes is 21 per cent higher, 12 per cent lighter in weight, and only four per cent more expensive than the grades now in use.

Canadian Standards Association has accepted the new steel which Algoma has developed by an entirely Canadian technological process.

U.K. Demands $s from Ford

LONDON (AP) — The U.S. treasury is the target of considerable British criticism for interfering in the bid by the Ford Motor Company of Detroit to buy complete control of its British subsidiary.

In London's financial district, stockbrokers could not believe that the Americans would damage their reputation by "not complying with their bargain."

Ford announced Nov. 4 it would offer $20.50 a share for the outstanding 46.6 per cent of the stock of British Ford which it did not already hold. This would amount to about $300,000,000 if accepted by all British stockholders.

Treasury Secretary Robert Anderson reportedly appealed to Henry Ford II to consider America's gold-and-dollar drain before going through with the deal.

After the stock market closed, the British treasury made it clear it would insist the deal be financed by dollars. Payments in shares or in sterling would not be acceptable.

The Financial Times says it was "incredible" that the U.S. treasury should have made its approach to Ford at such a late stage in the negotiations.

Japan Signs Copper Deal

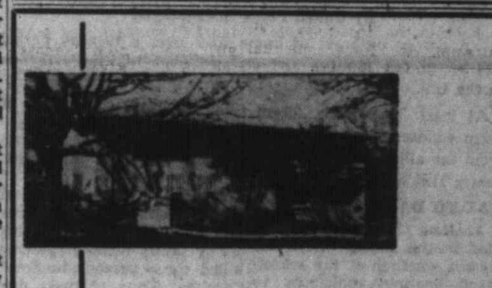

VANCOUVER (CP)—A five-year contract, expected to gross $18,750,000, has been signed between Coast Copper Company on Vancouver Island and Japan.

A Tokyo report says Coast Copper Company has completed a deal with Mitsubishi Metal Mining Company and Dowa Mining Company.

Court Ruling

Tax Law Affected

OTTAWA (CP) — A far-reaching Alberta Supreme Court decision affecting the time limits for launching court actions was contested in the Supreme Court of Canada Friday. Judgment was reserved.

The justice department, appealing the Alberta ruling, said that in effect it could wipe out the limitation periods now written into several federal acts—notably the Income Tax Act and the Estate Tax Act.

It would mean, for example, that revenue department prosecutions for tax evasion or false tax returns would have to be started within six months of the offence instead of the five years allowed by the Income Tax Act.

Cougars Lack Defence And Calgary Wins, 9-7

By JIM TANG

Calgary Stampeders played Victoria Cougars at give-away last night at Memorial Arena, and stayed atop the Western Hockey League. At that game they weren't quite a match for the charitable Islanders, who couldn't make seven goals enough and lost by two.

It was another one of those games—there have been three in a row now—which left Victoria coach George Agar all but speechless. He was last seen in the club offices shaking his head, more in sorrow than in anger as he tried to figure out how a club can score 13 goals in two games and lose them both.

Agar did manage a word or two. It was something about his defence and mainly about his goalkeeping. And it wasn't really nice. Last Friday, which brought an 8-6 setback at Vancouver, was still fresh in mind when the Cougars committed last night's indictable offense.

There is little that can be said for the losers except that the forwards did get going from time to time and that twice when they seemed almost capable of getting back what the defence gave away, referee Lloyd Gilmour set them back with almost-glaringly bad judgment on penalty calls against Don McLeod.

This was a game that could easily have been won. The Stampeders were much the better club when they were skating but they were completing a tough road trip, lost defenceman Ed Van Impe early in the first period, and were tired enough to be taken in the third period.

WEAK DEFENCE

That they weren't can be laid squarely at the door of a defence which had been expected to be the Cougars' strong point, mainly through the presence of Marcel Pelletier. But the veteran goalkeeper, apparently becoming as confused and uncertain as his defence, has probably never looked worse than he did last night.

Two pucks barely trickled across the line, at least two went between his pads. And while he didn't get the kind of support to which he is entitled, or even close to it, he has handled similar situations much better.

Everything went wrong after Bill Saunders, who has nine goals in the eight games he has played, got things off to an auspicious start with a fine shot which beat Art Lariviere cleanly.

FIRST PENALTY

McLeod got his first penalty and the Stamps cashed in when Jim Brown, who wound up with three goals and an assist, stole the puck from Jim Hay and backhanded in.

Then Brown got a small piece of the puck trying to turn in a pass and it trickled past Pelletier, who was set for something tougher. Ron Leopold followed with Calgary's best-executed goal but then Wally Hergesheimer made it 4-1 when no one came up to help Hay, who had broken his stick and was doing what he could to stop the play without it.

Bert Fizzell and Gerry Goyer raised hopes early in the second period as the Cougars clicked on successive penalties to George McAvoy. But then it started again as rookie Cliff Bristow and Hergesheimer scored soft goals while the Cougars did little but watch the Stamps pass the puck around.

—the Cougars were just giving last night. Bristow and Lou Jankowski added to their point totals with goals on plays which should have been stopped and which made later scoring shots by Saunders and Jim Moro meaningless.

Whether Georges Roy will help is hard to tell but one can be sure an intensified search for the disappearing French-Canadian will be started forthwith. The Cougars could also use a centre and a rightwinger but most of all they need someone behind the blue line who'll go out to meet the enemy instead of complicating matters for Pelletier by trying to make their stands in front of the goal crease.

Achtymichuk Earns Trip From Minors

EDMONTON—Gene Achtymichuk, who was thrown to the Wolves by Edmonton Flyers early this season, returned to the club last night and scored the winning goal in overtime as Flyers nipped Vancouver Canucks, 4-3, in a Western Hockey League game before 3,875 fans.

Achtymichuk returned yesterday from Sudbury Wolves, where he had been shifted by the over-manned Flyers. His goal came at 4.02 of the overtime session on a pass from Ed Diachuk, and spoiled the debut of Vancouver netminder Claude Evans.

Evans had a shutout going until early in the final period, when Diachuk and Chuck Holmes scored for Flyers with Orland Kurtenbach in the penalty box to tie the score at 2-2. Then Ray Brunel, received in trade from Winnipeg Warriors early this week, sent Flyers ahead at 15.45.

Nine seconds later, Danny Belisle tied it up again to send the clubs into overtime. Jim Powers and Bruce Carmichael scored the other Vancouver goals as the Canucks were dropped into third place.

Vancouver — Goal: Evans; defence: Macnab, Anderson, Keller, Cahan; forwards: Popein, Kurtenbach, Carmichael, Duke, Roggeveen, Powers, Belisle, Wilkie.

Imlach Blasts Refs 'They Stole Game'

Punch Imlach, apparently $1,000 richer than he wants to be, has levelled a vitriolic blast at National Hockey League officials, calling their handling of a Toronto-Montreal game Thursday "the worst officiating I've seen since I came up to the NHL."

Imlach, general manager of the Leafs, left himself open to a $1,000 fine for public criticism of an official as he blasted referee Frank Udvari and linesmen George Hayes and Loren Doolittle for their handling of a game won by Canadiens, 6-3.

"They should give Udvari the first star and the linesmen the other two stars," he snarled. "They stole the game from us."

Imlach claimed that one Montreal goal should have been disallowed because the puck was hand-steered into the crease; that Armstrong should have allowed a Toronto goal that went in under the crossbar and bounced out again; and that Dickie Moore was offside when scoring a goal that halted a Toronto rally.

Adding to his woes was news that forward Ron Stewart is out indefinitely with a broken ankle suffered when he slid into the boards in the final seconds of the game. Stewart will be replaced by Johnny MacMillan, called up from Springfield of the American Hockey League.

U.S. Collegians Whip Vikings

Everett Junior College Trojans gave Victoria University Vikings their first taste of American-style basketball last night, and beat them, 50-34, in an exhibition game at the Gordon Head campus.

The game was the first of several planned against U.S. college competition this season. Trojans built up a 15-3 lead early in the first quarter and were never in trouble.

Chuck McMillan scored 12 points for the visitors and Terry Cook added nine. Arnold Frank, 6' 7" rookie from Kimberley, was used sparingly and got two points.

High scorer for Vikings was Darrell Lorimer with 11 points.

IT BEATS ME

By Jim Tang

PORTLAND BUCKAROOS may be adding a new gun soon. He is Ed 'Pistol' Dorohoy, reportedly headed for the Rose City to join the other ex-Cougars assembled there by ex-Cougar Hal Laycoe.

Dorohoy is partial to the idea of winding up his hockey career in Victoria, and the Cougars sort of like the thought, too, but it's said that the new Western Hockey League entry, drawing well and willing to gamble that Ed will eventually be as good as new, have made an offer. And it's said that Vancouver Canucks are likely to accept.

ADD RUMORS: And then there is another report that there is some talk in some circles about trying to get Hal Laycoe to take over managership of Memorial Arena. There is no doubt but that Laycoe would like to make Victoria his permanent home but the ex-Cougar coach is being well paid, and doing right well, too, by Portland Buckaroos.

ON THE JOB: The Hockey News ordinarily doesn't get much news published first, it being a weekly, but publisher Ken McKenzie must have scooped everyone in last week's issue when he reported in his column that the Bobby Hulls are expecting their first child in July.

BORROWED: Art Rosenbaum reports in the San Francisco Chronicle that when the 49ers (of the National Football League) finally put Y. A. Tittle, J. D. Smith, C. R. Roberts and R. C. Owens together in their backfield they did meet with some initial success.

BOUQUET: To Keith Dorman, president of the burgeoning Independent Athletic Association, for which Fred "Stuffy" McGinnis is such an ardent worker. Keith picks up the tab for the entry in the Commercial Hockey League which is entered under IAA.

IT CAN BE DONE: As one person who finds the waits between races interminable, not to mention costly in the indecision they foster, the experiment conducted at Golden Gate Fields this season rates a cheer. Limiting the post parade to 10 minutes and the time between races to 22, the track ran off nine races on opening day in three hours and 25 minutes, which makes the five hours at Sandown for eight races a bit of a marathon spending spree. And, incidentally, the mutuel handle was up $23,000 over Golden Gate's 1959 opening.

ANOTHER SPEEDUP: Just how much time is consumed at hockey games by pucks flying in among the spectators is shown by figures released by Montreal Forum officials. Since plexi-glass was installed around the promenade walls, National Hockey League games are averaging out nine minutes shorter in elapsed time.

OF ALL PLACES: Curling buffs may be surprised to learn that Toronto now ranks behind only Winnipeg as a curling centre and could be No. 1 by 1963. Staid old Hog Town has gone for the roaring game in a big way and when the Beaver Curling Club announced last week that it is putting up a six-sheeter, with provision for an extra six sheets, in Vaughn Township, it gave the Greater Toronto area its 16th club. And when the Beaver club is in operation next October, the area will have 112 sheets, only three fewer than Winnipeg and more than Edmonton.

STAY LAZY, CASEY: He could have added something to a legend if there had been a chance to take over San Francisco Giants, who are good enough to win in the National League, but when that job was filled one can only hope that indications that Casey Stengel will retire are true. There isn't another managerial opening giving any reasonable chance of success, even to a Stengel, and Casey can only lose if he goes back to work. They'll remember him then as the second-division manager he was until he hooked up with the Yankees.

BUZZ FOR MUZZ: Coach Gus Kyle of the Calgary Stampeders says that New York Rangers need look no further than his Lou Jankowski in their search for a left-winger who can put the puck in the nets with some degree of regularity.

THE UNTOUCHABLES: Try to make a trade with Vancouver Canucks and one is not long in finding out just who coach Art Chapman thinks are his key men. You'll get nowhere if it's either Ralph Keller or Ralph Cahan you're after.

BROUGHT UP RIGHT: Best of the many stories told about Yogi Berra concerns the time Casey Stengel asked him what he'd do if he found a million dollars. Unhestitatingly came the answer "If the fellow who lost if was poor I'd give it back to him."

GUESSING DFPARTMENT: Ray Robinson to find out tonight that Gene Fullmer and Father Time are too tough a combination. Seattle and Vancouver in the WHL and Montreal and Toronto in the NHL. Batting average to date: At bat 182, hits 124, percentage .681.

Mount View Hornets solved a knotty problem a little too late last night, and just missed pulling the upset of the season in the Inter-High School Basketball League as they dropped a 45-44 decision to Esquimalt Dockers.

Trailing 29-20 at half time, Hornets switched checks and put Pete Bridgewood on Dockers' high-scoring Bruce Mitchell, who had scored 22 points in the first half. Mitchell could get only five more the rest of the game, and Bridgewood got 10 of his 12 to lead Hornets in a rally that fell just short.

Victory left Dockers tied for first place with the idle Oak Bay Greens and Victoria High Totems, who drubbed North Saanich, 56-19. John Louvaas was high man for Totems with 17 points and Bob Brain got all but two of the losers' points.

In last night's other game, St. Louis College got 16 points from Barry Maloney and beat Belmont, 46-41, for its first win of the season.

Title Fight Crossroads For Sugar

LOS ANGELES (AP)—For Sugar Ray Robinson, tonight may be the end of the line—or a new lease on life in a boxing career that has been long, brilliant and often tumultuous.

The answer will come when Robinson, 39 at least, clashes with Gene Fullmer of West Jordan, Utah. Fullmer is recognized almost everywhere except New York and Massachusetts as the world middle weight champion.

Robinson will be seeking the 160-pound crown for an unprecedented sixth time.

Fullmer, whose bruising, brawling ring manners are in direct contrast to his off-duty demeanor, remains a 3-1 favorite to retain the National Boxing Association version of the world title. The fight will be televised (7 p.m., channel 4).

A new electronic device that allows blind bowlers to play candlepins without guidance from sighted persons has been tested successfully in the United States and may soon be modified for fivepins.

Called the Bowlaide, it is a hand device that gives a picture in braille of where pins have fallen and what pins remain standing. In Watertown, Mass., there is a complete bowling alley for the blind with each lane using the Bowlaide.

Bally Ache Insurance $1,000,000

NEW YORK (AP) — One million dollars, a record payment in animal insurance, was given Friday to the syndicate owners of Bally Ache, the ace three-year-old colt that died Oct. 28.

The insurance company holding the claim disclosed that the syndicate, headed by Morris and Leonard Fruchtman of Toledo and Joseph Arnold of Versailles, Ky., had paid $42,500 for the policy that resulted in the $1,000,000 return.

Bally Ache, winner of $758,522 in his brief racing career, died of an intestinal virus and acute colitis shortly before he was scheduled to enter stud.

The son of Ballydam-Celestial Blue was sold by Edgehill Farms to a seven-member syndicate for $1,250,000 last April on the eve of the Preakness, which he won.

The claim was paid by cheque Friday by the Animal Insurance Company of America.

Trade Market Slow Rosters Still Frozen

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — Imminent solution to the expansion problem strengthened the belief among baseball men Friday that the American League will promptly move into Los Angeles and thaw out its "frozen" rosters so everyone can get on with trades.

American League officials were encouraged by word from commissioner Ford Frick in New York Thursday that several amendments to the expansion rule had been worked out and will be presented for approval to the major leagues on Monday when they officially open their meetings here.

Frick didn't reveal whether he was for or against the amendments which were promulgated in conjunction with National League president Warren Giles and American League president Joe Cronin, but it was apparent he had no serious objections to them as long as he sanctioned their relay here to the majors.

"If the two leagues can work out a satisfactory change to rule 1, Frick said earlier, "I will be perfectly willing to go along with them."

A long-time exponent of expansion, Frick even hinted he would cast the necessary vote for expansion in the event a deadlock developed between the two leagues. That would clear the way for an AL franchise in Los Angeles for 1961.

GOOD CHANCE

When rule 1, which covers expansion procedure, is amended, as it has a good chance to be Monday, the AL has indicated it will immediately permit its two new franchises to select players from the pool into which the eight other AL clubs have contributed. The players will go at $75,000 apiece.

Since the American League rosters have been frozen up to now and A.L. clubs' officials aren't sure which of their players will be picked by the two new franchises, they have been loathe to do any trading.

"How can you possibly talk trade when you don't know which players you're going to lose?" inquired general manager Roy Hamey of the New York Yankees. "As soon as they change the expansion rule though, we can get the show on the road."

NO TRADES

Not a single trade was made during the four-day minor league meetings which wound up at Louisville Thursday, although there were two major league sales. The Baltimore Orioles bought outfielder Earl Robinson from the Los Angeles Dodgers and the Milwaukee Braves purchased catcher Dick Brown from the Chicago White Sox.

The National League plan for "orderly exansion," so-called because it is designed for 1962 instead of 1961, got a big boost during the final minor league session.

The minors passed an amendment that would permit the Houston and New York clubs, the National League's new members, to begin signing players immediately after their territorial claims are settled. The rule probably will be passed by the majors and will apply to new A.L. clubs also.

College Grid 'Dream Team' Built on Bulk and Bellino

NEW YORK (CP) — A mammoth line and a backfield built around Navy's Joe Bellino highlight the 1960 All-America college football team announced Friday by The Associated Press.

The other halfback is Pervis Atkins of New Mexico State. Quarterback is Jake Gibbs, Mississippi and fullback Bob Ferguson, Ohio State.

The line is composed of Dan Larose, Missouri, 231 pounds, and Mike Ditka, Pitt, 218, ends; Ken Rice, Auburn, 250, and Bob Lilly, Texas Christian, 248, tackles; Tom Brown, Minnesota, 224, and Ben Balme, Yale, 215, guards, and Roy McKasson, Washington, 205, centre.

The team was selected on the graded recommendations of eight regional boards of expert sports writers who also voted on the top 10 throughout the season.

Bellino was a standout in a season in which, generally, attention centred on the line rather than the backfield. He scored 110 points for Navy's Orange Bowl-bound team, including 18 touchdowns, and gained 834 yards rushing, 280 yards catching 17 passes, and threw five passes for 112 yards. The five-foot-nine, 181-pound halfback wound up his academy career in a blaze of glory by intercepting a pass on the goal line in the closing moments of the Army-Navy game, saving Navy's 17-12 lead.

Close behind Bellino came Atkins, a 25-year-old wingback, who carried the ball 65 times for 611 yards in New Mexico State's unbeaten season. He caught 24 passes for 468 yards. He stands 6-1 and weighs 190 and was drafted before his senior year by Los Angeles Rams of the National League.

Ferguson, the only junior on the team, is a 217-pounder who was moved from halfback to fullback then crashed through for Ohio State with 13 touchdowns and 853 yards rushing.

Gibbs, who weighs 185, completed 66 of 109 passes for 970 yards and 12 touchdowns, and wound up the regular season by connecting on 13 of 15 passes against Mississippi State. He also was rated the most dangerous runner on an unbeaten but once tied team, and is a good punter.

Ditka, who caught 11 passes for 229 yards and two touchdowns, was most feared for his hard tackling and blocking. La Rose caught 10 passes for 151 yards and two touchdowns, and received six fumbles.

Breath of Springtime

By M. V. CHESNUT, FRHS

For my money, Christmas isn't Christmas without some flowers around the house. Sprays of holly and evergreen cedar boughs are grand for decorating the mantelpiece and sideboard, but you need some living flowers, too—a breath of spring, signifying the passing of the winter solstice, the gradually lengthening days ahead and the long climb back to summer.

If you plan on buying your Christmas flowers from a florist, there is no particular rush to do anything about it yet but, if your pocketbook suffers from chronic anaemia like mine, it is time to look around and see what can be done to supply our own blooms.

Bulb bowls are the great standby at Christmas, but the only kinds likely to be in bloom in time are the Cragford, Paper White and Soliel d'Or narcissus, the Chinese Sacred Lily — which is another narcissus—and the Roman hyacinths. It isn't too easy to bring even these kinds into bloom at exactly the right time but, with a little care and attention, it can be done.

As for those bulbs you potted up earlier this fall — if the flower buds are not fully developed a week before Christma's and the bulbs obviously have a long way to go, you may as well give up and look elsewhere for your Christmas flowers, for it is asking for trouble if you try to push them ahead too fast. If, however, the buds are fully formed but don't seem to want to open up, they can be jolted into action. About 24 hours before they are needed, water the bowl with a solution of saltpetre in water, two teaspoonfuls per quart, and as much of the solution as you would use in an ordinary watering. This shot in the arm will nearly always persuade the flowers to open up.

On the other hand, if the development of the buds is too far forward, leading you to believe they will open too soon, they can be retarded by setting the bowl in a dark and very cool but not frosty place. The buds will open much more slowly there, and in any event, all newly-opened bulb flowers should be felt for 12 hours in cool darkness to "set" them. This lengthens the life of the blooms and enhances their beauty.

If no bulbs were potted up, the garden will often yield a mixed bag of flowers. You can often find a few primroses, polyanthus, violets, late stocks, snaps, calendulas and even the occasional rose in flower in late December.

Better do a little prospecting in the garden now and, if any plants are found which show promise of blooming for Christmas, it is worthwhile arranging a little protection of some kind with cloches, jam jars and various contraptions you can make with plastic film. If you have a patch of Christmas roses — the Hellebores, not the Last Rose of Summer — it is almost essential to cover them to ensure long stems and pure white flowers unsplashed with mud and rain. A bottomless wooden box with a sheet of plastic tacked over the top does a grand job of protecting these virginal blooms.

The winter-flowering jasmine is usually opening a few buds by Christmas week and, if the sprays are cut when the buds are showing their first trace of color, they will open indoors and last for quite a long time. A few berried sprigs of pyracantha are grand in a centrepiece arrangement; so are sprays of holly, with the leaves washed in soft, soapy water to make them shine. In looking for color in the garden, don't forget the multi-colored autumn foliage of the blackberries, which will often linger well into the New Year season.

John Crosby — Critic at Large

'Law Is an Ass, an Idiot'

"If the law supposes that," said Mr. Bumble, " . . . the law is an ass, an idiot." Aaah, how Charles Dickens would have rumbled with a mixture of glee and wrath had he read Chief Judge Lumbard's decision reversing the conviction of the Apalachin mobsters.

Seventy-five mobsters, most with unsavory records, were gathered at the home of Joseph Barbara in Apalachin when the New York State Police—entirely by accident—stumbled on this assembly of hoodlums, including some of the top members of the underworld. The mobsters scattered in panic. Rounded up, they insisted they were simply visiting a sick friend, Mr. Barbara.

Patently, they were all lying since elaborate preparations and complicated travel arrangements had been made. They were indicted for conspiracy to obstruct justice and they were convicted by a jury in Federal Judge Irving Kaufman's court in spite of clouds of expensive lawyers.

"The danger," said Judge Lumbard in his decision reversing the conviction, "of sweeping within the net of such a conspiracy an innocent visitor whose honestly told story may in its omissions have coincided with some falsehood told by others calls for special precautions."

★ ★ ★

His concern for the innocent is touching. It reminds me of Anatole France's remark: "The law in its majestic equality forbids the rich as well as the poor to sleep under bridges, to beg in the streets, and to steal bread."

Or, to rework that a little in light of Judge Lumbard's concern, the law in its majestic equality must protect innocent greengrocers from being caught with 74 hoodlums and unjustly prosecuted.

Just suppose John Q. Citizen arrived in his limousine with bodyguard and chauffeur for no more devious purpose than to play a little polo—as we all do now and then. Then just suppose he takes fright when the cops arrive and flees through the woods with his bodyguards and his chauffeur and he tells lies because he doesn't want his wife to know he was playing polo. We must protect him from unjust harassment by police officers.

Innocent to Poor To Win Freedom

I think it important that we add a course called Common Sense 1 to our law schools. Today society is helpless before organized crime which has hardly lost a case in U.S. courts except for income tax violation since Tom Dewey sent Lucky Luciano to jail.

Lawyers, courts and judges have lost sight of reality. While the country sinks in a sea of hopeless corruption, while mobsters are defended by the top legal brains, Judge Lumbard worries about the hypothetical plight of a hypothetical greengrocer in a wildly improbable analogy. This touching concern for the innocent did not save an innocent woman from three years in jail where she was sent by a judge so wrapped up in his dignity he couldn't see over his nose.

★ ★ ★

Judges don't deal in common sense. At least, not in the U.S.—the only country in the world with organized crime. Judge Lumbard's concern about an innocent man blinks at the fact that innocent men don't have all those expensive lawyers who are too busy working for Frank Costello. Innocent men haven't nearly enough money to fight a case to the Court of Appeals. Only crooks and corporations have the funds to fight a case to the Circuit Court of Appeals where they can hear Judge Lumbard's tender concern for the innocent.

The innocent don't hear it. The innocent are in jail, where they have been sent by a judge who wasn't paying attention because the innocent have neither the lawyers nor the money to be worth bothering with.

Skid Road Derelicts Cost Staggering Sum

VANCOUVER (CP) — Vancouver's Skid Road drunks and derelicts are parasites who pick the pockets of the taxpayers, the executive director of the Alcoholism Foundation of British Columbia said Friday.

E. D. McRae charged that "numb" administrators bring relief but no solution to the problem of the city's down-and-out community and called for a comprehensive study of Skid Road living financed by the city and the provincial government.

"How much did it cost to arrest, try and often jail 10,600 drunks in 1959?" Mr. McRae asked. "Then there's the staggering sum paid out in social assistance, plus the use of public health facilities."

Shelley Hopes To Slow Down

By SHEILAH GRAHAM

HOLLYWOOD (NANA)—Shelley Winters told them in London that she is thinking of settling there permanently. She likes the slower pace.

Unless he had another nervous breakdown, Brigitte Bardot's mate, Jacques Charrier, is now in the French army. He should be getting a "Dear Jacques" letter from Brig any day now.

What happened to Metro's reported plan to film Mario Lanza's life story using the sound tracks he made for his pictures there? . . . Lanza's last manager, Al Teitelbaum, is recovering from a siege of hepatitis.

Eddie Fisher has told intimates that he will never allow Debbie Reynolds' new husband, Harry Karl, to adopt his two children with Debbie. But Eddie is happy that Debbie's marriage to the multi-millionaire has taken him off the alimony hook.

Jack "Room at the Top" Clayton's reason for wanting to direct the movie version of Henry James' "Turn of the Screw": He believes it's the most difficult story to transfer to celluloid. I personally think it's too difficult.

Eleanor Parker, who looks different with every movie, has dyed her hair a champagne pink for her role of modern career girl in "Madison Avenue" at 20th Century-Fox. When she isn't working, Eleanor lives with her painter mate, Paul Clemens, and her four children in the house she built on Lido Isle.

While Elizabeth Taylor will be sun-bathing in Palm Springs with husband Eddie Fisher and her three children, her "Cleopatra" boss, Spyros Skouras, is battling with the insurance people in London over how much they should pay of the $2,000,000 Liz's illness has cost his company. There is talk of making the entire film in Egypt where the winters are warm, but the studio people in London are still hoping the interiors will be filmed there.

Shooting interiors in London is very fashionable for all Hollywood films made in Europe and the Middle East. Rory Calhoun has arrived in the British capital to finish his new movie, "Treasure of Monte Carlo." Outside shots were made in the tiny kingdom ruled by Grace Kelly and her prince.

Christmas Music

Crowds Pack Three Halls For Concerts

By BERT BINNY

Victoria concert-goers had a hard time last night making up their minds between three musical programs.

Nevertheless the three audiences could be rated as good, capacity and overflow.

The overflow was at Metropolitan United Church for the annual festival of carols sponsored, in aid of the 60-Up Club, by the Victoria Lions Club.

BELL RINGERS

Tolmie, Uplands and Doncaster elementary schools together with Oak Bay Junior and Oak Bay and Mount View high schools contributed to a delightful program along with the Oak Bay Handbell Ringers.

There was a capacity audience at Victoria High School for the Fine Arts Festival. This was the most varied and ambitious program of all and this enjoyable event will be repeated this evening at 8.15.

ART DISPLAY

Included were vocal and instrumental solos, ensembles, choruses, the school band and the schools' symphony orchestra. In addition, the play "Elizabeth Refuses," with a cast of four, was presented, and there was an art display to occupy the intermission.

A good audience turned up at Victoria University auditorium for a program which had already played to two full houses of students only.

'MESSIAH' PART

The men's choir and the university chorale sang a number of Christmas items but the feature of the evening was the performance of the first part of Handel's "Messiah."

Guest artist and soprano soloist was Peggy Walton Packard. Kiwi Westinghouse sang the contralto with Peter Challoner as tenor and Ken Oliphant as bass. Also on hand was the university string quartet.

Russian traders established colonies in Siberia to collect furs as early as the 13th century.

NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING STIMULATES BUYING

That's Show Business

By Dick Williams

Mae West once gave TV's Gene Barry the romantic lead in her stage play, "Catherine Was Great."

After a few days of rehearsal, Mae announced she wanted "something more emotional." She selected one of the girls from the cast and said, "Let me see how you kiss her."

Barry complied as best he could, but Mae only sniffed. "You make love like a schoolboy," she snapped in disgust.

This was the beginning of a personal instruction course in which pupil stayed after school each day for teacher's lessons.

All went well until the show opened in Philadelphia. Although Barry has black hair, his mustache is red, so he darkened it with mascara.

In their first love scene, he smudged Mae up. Between scenes she took him to her dressing room, mixed up a dye and applied it herself.

"It looked great," Barry remembers. "But the next day the whole darned mustache dropped off. I never figured whether it was the dye or Mae's kisses!"

Threat Hangs Over Head

'Santa Claus' Awaits Word on Deportation

* * *

CHARLES "AUSSIE" GREEN
. . . awaits fate

DUNCAN—A "Santa Claus" who entered Canada illegally is waiting here with the threat of deportation hanging over his head.

He is Charles "Aussie" Green, 40, a part-time store Santa Claus, who any day is expecting the final word on his case with the immigration department. His "year of grace" as a probationary Canadian is over.

LIVED AT CROFTON

Mr. Green lived at nearby Crofton for almost two years undetected, but then gave himself up to immigration officials when he was being blackmailed.

Yesterday he said: "I have kept myself. I continued to show during that time that I could keep out of trouble. I think I have established myself and hope the immgiration people think so too."

JUMPED SHIP

The sailor from England jumped ship at Montreal in August, 1955, and gave himself up late in 1958 after an acquaintance saw him drop his passport. He was going by the alias Charles Ewing. The passport had his real name in it.

Deportation proceedings were started but friends got nearly 500 names on petitions and 32 letters of recommendation.

YEAR AGO

A year ago a letter was received from Ellen Fairclough, minister of immigration, stating: "I have made a further study into Mr. Green's case and have decided to grant him a stay of deportation proceedings for a period of one year.

"So his care will be favorably considered he must satisfy me that he has made an honest effort to establish himself in Canada."

Said Mr. Green, "During the year I followed construction from here to Prince Rupert, Castlegar, Revelstoke and back. Nearly each place was a different boss. I didn't sit and wait for the jobs, I went out and got them and I haven't been on unemployment insurance, although I can get it."

Tow-Away Scheme Before Council Soon

Revived idea of having cars towed away from rush-hour no-parking zones will probably be taken up at the next meeting of city council public works committee.

City engineer James Garnett, asked by the committee to study the idea and make recommendations, said yesterday he expects to have a report ready by then.

He would not say what his recommendations will be, but he said at an earlier meeting he could favor shortening of the parking-ban periods only with a tow-away system.

The city planned to institute the system two years ago but dropped the idea because of difficulty at that time in finding a firm interested in contracting for the tow-away and impounding service.

Dark-Corner Accident Injures Man

Edward Charles Head, 76, of 3354 Harriet, was treated for possible leg injuries at St. Joseph's Hospital last night after being struck by a car at the darkened Boleskine-Davidson intersection.

Police said the man was struck while crossing diagonally across the intersection. Driver of the car was identified as Marjorie G. Mahon, 401 Burnside East.

Mr. Head was wearing dark clothing, police said.

Patrol Ship Bids Called

Lumber Exports Higher

CHEMAINUS — Lumber exports from here this year will definitely be higher than in any of the last three years, customs figures show.

So far this year there have been 165,160,400 feet exported to the end of November.

Already the figure is 38,000,000 feet above last year, a mere 400,000 feet below 1958 and 12,000,00 feet more than 1957. By the end of this month the total is expected to be at least 10,000,000 feet more than in 1958.

The United Kingdom has been the biggest customer.

Sailors Bring Gifts

Sailors who returned to Esquimalt yesterday after sailing more than 11,000 miles since Oct. 6 were able to work in some Christmas shopping between anti-submarine exercises.

Crewmen of HMC Ships Assiniboine, Fraser and Skeena, and the families who welcomed them, staggered away under mounds of parcels destined for the family Christmas tree.

In what Capt. John E. Charles, squadron commander, called a most satisfactory exercise, the ships exercised in Hawaiian and Californian waters with all types of surface and undersea craft and airplanes. More than two-thirds of the time away was spent at sea.

TV Trash Spurs Reading

By CHARLES THOMPSON

COWICHAN STATION — Trash on television is driving adults back to books.

And although children like TV it is awakening in them the desire to read books that they might never have otherwise heard about.

So things are looking up in the book business, says Mrs. Magnus Colvin, one of the last of the original "home librarians" who were first appointed in the province more than 25 years ago.

"All in all I'd say that things have changed since then. There are fewer readers among the younger people but more among the adults," she said yesterday, showing row after row of public books on the front porch of her home.

The Carnegie Institute started the regional library system with a grant of more than $100,000 to the Fraser Valley area in 1930. About four years later ratepayers approved the idea and voted to continue it with the cost added to taxes.

In 1936, said Vancouver Island regional librarian William Taggart, the Island and Okanagan voted to start the system. The following spring Mrs. Colvin was one of some 60 home librarians on the Island.

Mr. Taggart said yesterday, "Mrs. Colvin is the last of the originals as far as we know, and we wouldn't do anything to change the way she is handling things."

All but the inaccessible areas have replaced the home library with bookmobiles, but not here.

"Television has many younger people captured, and many adults like the educational programs and good drama, but there is so much trash that it is driving them back to books," said Mrs. Colvin.

Mr. Taggart agreed that residents of the area are avid readers.

Mrs. Colvin's library hours are "anytime and all the time, seven days a week."

She rarely charges fines when books are late, feeling that some people are not able to get around very often.

Arena Commission Searching For Manager and Assistant

* * *

KENNETH NOAKES

The arena commission began searching yesterday for someone to fill the controversial posts of manager and assistant manager of Victoria's Memorial Arena.

Commission chairman Frank Mulliner said last night the commission is prepared to fill the posts "as soon as the right men can be found." He indicated the jobs would be widely advertised.

Kenneth Noakes will have to apply if he wishes his job back. He was office manager before he resigned, but the new post includes duties as office manager in the assistant manager's position.

Climax of the arena controversy could come today.

City council and arena commissioners are due to meet at 10 a.m. at city hall and although the meeting has been called by council specifically "for the purpose of exploring new information that has been brought to council," some alderman have indicated they hope to clear the air completely.

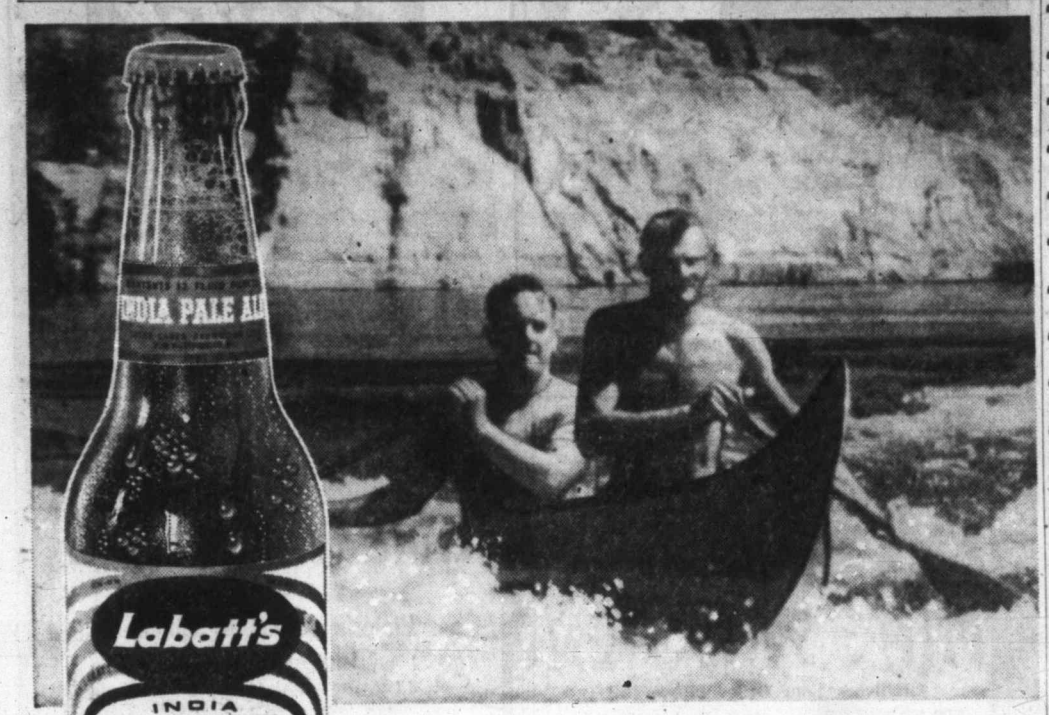

Chairman of council's arena committee, Ald. Hugh Ramsay in particular has proposed "immediate and drastic remedial action" in the interests of the taxpayers, the arena and the arena employees.

Whether the meeting will be open or closed will not be known until after it starts. The aldermen and commissioners present will make the decision.

The controversy began with the resignation of Noakes and five other arena employees. Then arena manager Joe Dukowski submitted his resignation effective in 90 days and Commissioner Courtney Haddock insisted the resignation should be effective immediately to permit rehiring other members of the staff.

A statement issued by the arena commission last night said the position of these employees ". . . is not forgotten and will be considered fairly."

"However, the commission does not recognize a special immediate obligation to them. They were not discharged and all but one of them resigned at the beginning of the arena's busiest season," the statement said.

SPCA Complaint

Pound Letter Ignored

An SPCA spokesman yesterday complained that no official response has been forthcoming to a month-old request that Saanich immediately improve conditions in the municipal pound.

The pound operation was "condemned" after SPCA officials from Victoria and Vancouver made an inspection of the facilities Oct. 25.

Victoria SPCA branch president Cameron Webster, in a letter to Saanich council Nov. 5, said conditions under which animals were kept in the pound had been cause of increasing concern over the months. He said the society had no alternative but to condemn the operation.

N. H. Stephens, secretary-manager of the Victoria branch, said yesterday he phoned Reeve George Chatterton this week to ask when the society president's letter would be placed before council.

NO CONTACT

He was told that the reeve had ordered an official approach to be made to the society, asking for the SPCA to take over task of destroying unclaimed animals as a temporary measure. So far, however, no contact has been made with the branch, Mr. Stephens said.

The SPCA president's letter said structural deficiencies in the pound buildings are aggravated by lack of attention given to the animals kept there.

SIX KENNELS

It said six kennels in the main building are connected with a single uncovered exercise area outside. The letter went on: "This permits indiscriminate mating of females, undue transmission of disease, and attacks by vicious dogs on smaller ones."

There are no heating facilities in the pound, no electric light, and a lack of proper sleeping and sanitary facilities, the letter said.

On the day Mr. Stephens and Thomas Hughes, executive director of the provincial SPCA, inspected the pound there were dead animals left lying near the door, it added.

DIVIDE AREA

The society asked Saanich to install a translucent plastic roof and divide the exercise area into runs matching the kennels inside. Along with adequate heat and light and supervision the SPCA requested that an electric shock killing device be installed to replace the present carbon monoxide method.

$400,000 Beach Park Project Starts in Big Way in '61

Saanich Busy Acquiring Last of 17-Acre Site

Construction of a $400,000 beach park at Cadboro Bay will begin "in a big way" next year, Reeve George Chatterton said last night.

Saanich council is at present acquiring ownership of two parcels of land in the area, the last of 17 acres needed for the development.

Expropriation proceedings have been started for three acres owned by Lee Gan and the estate of Chu Sing Hore.

Council this week reached agreement with Capt. William Gregory and Miss Doris Lyne, owners of The Tea Caddy at Cadboro Bay, to buy the property for $8,650.

"When we have the two outstanding parcels of land we will control the whole waterfront," Reeve Chatterton said. "Next year we can start developing it in a fairly big way.

By Far the Best

"It will be by far the best beach park in the whole of the Greater Victoria area—in the whole Saanich Peninsula."

The development plan, prepared by Saanich planner Antony Parr, includes an Olympic-size swimming pool, boat launching ramp, creation of a park and picnic area, construction of a restaurant and service buildings, playground for children and a protected swimming area on the beach front.

The 17-acre site will have a beach frontage of 4,000 feet and a depth of about 850 feet. It will include the existing Cadboro-Gyro Park, 4.37 acres already developed by Victoria Gyro Club. The club has promised its support to the scheme.

A three-stage development plan has been prepared for the park—each stage costing some $100,000.

Land Acquisition

First stage, which is under way at present, includes acquisition of the land, filling of low-lying land, construction of a parking lot, seeding the area and installation of playground and picnic equipment.

The swimming pool, tentatively planned to measure 82 feet by 42 feet and capable of being filled with either sea water or fresh water, will not be built for some time.

"The improvements to the marine drive from the gates of Uplands to Sinclair Road—which leads down to the park area—give an excellent approach," Reeve Chatterton said last night. "The park will be the terminus of the marine drive."

Much of the land in the 17-acre site is low-lying and fill will come from the sewerage scheme proposed for the area which will be voted on this month by local residents.

Figures Show Need

New Detention Home Committee's Target

Greater Victoria juvenile detention home committee is supplying figures to the intermunicipal committee on use of the present home which it hopes will lead to construction of a new home soon, Ald. Mrs. Lily Wilson said yesterday.

Intermunicipal committee at its last meeting laid aside the question of building a new home after Reeve George Chatterton of Saanich suggested it ought to see how operation of the home was affected by the new joint juvenile and family court.

FIGURES SUPPLIED

Figures on the numbers and ages of children detained at the present home are being supplied, Ald. Wilson said, "although we can't exactly foretell the future. But we are not planning a home for more children—just a home with more facilities."

Complaint of the detention home committee has been that the present home on Coldharbor Road has no facilities for handling the more violent youngsters, no means of segregating eight and nine-year-olds from older juveniles accused of acts of violence and even sexual offences, and no enclosed outside exercise area.

28,000-Ton Orcades To Stop Off City

The buff-hulled 28,000-ton P & O Orient liner Orcades will stop briefly off Victoria's waterfront about 11.15 a.m. Wednesday to pick up customs and immigration officials and pilot. The ship, on a 50-day 'round the Pacific voyage, will reach Vancouver at 5 p.m. the same day.

Other officers elected were D. H. Ruppel, vice-president; Lily Northam, secretary-treasurer; E. G. Harvey, Lawrence Fieldhouse, A. E. Black, Raymond Kelly and E. G. Guy, executive.

Two City Hall Proposals Turned Down by Council

City council has turned down, at least for the time being, two firms' proposals to build Victoria a new city hall.

One proposal was from Marwell Construction Ltd. and the other from Dominion Construction Co. Ltd.

Council met in closed session last week to consider the proposals.

"City council decided that it couldn't see that it is in a position to be interested in these proposals, certainly at the present time," Mayor Scurrah said.

Civic Election Forum

B.C. Costly Luxury For City Taxpayers

The provincial government is becoming an increasingly costly luxury to Victoria taxpayers, aldermanic candidate Charles Nelles told a civic election forum last night.

He said the government was like the bird which lays its eggs in other birds' nests and leaves them to raise its young.

So many properties in the James Bay area have been taken off the civic tax rolls as the government expands, said Mr. Nelles, that a grant in lieu of city taxes now would amount to some $300,000 or three mills.

"It's a matter of pride that prevents the government from paying city taxes," he added. "But if it was asked politely by city council I believe we could get service charges."

Eight of the 11 candidates seeking four city council seats spoke at a meeting sponsored by Victoria Ratepayers' Education Association. Fifty-two persons turned out.

PROVIDE JOBS

Sam Lane said a well-planned tourist industry here would provide jobs for many young people who are forced to leave town to find work after local taxpayers have footed the bill for their education.

"It's tragic," said Mr. Lane, "that our greatest export to the U.S. is good Canadian brains."

TOOK ISSUE

Victor Williams took issue with the "lopsided" representation which has existed on city council, where 90 per cent of the members are businessmen, while other citizens who pay 70 per cent of taxes are poorly represented.

Mr. Williams said he was shocked by news that Mayor Percy Scurrah had gone to Ottawa to discuss federal aid for downtown parking. He said the citizens voted two-to-one recently that downtown parking was "the businessman's pigeon."

Elgin Neish attacked the mayor's Ottawa trip, which he said followed receipt of a "secret brief" from the Downtown Businessmen's Association. "The citizens shouldn't finance any junket like that," he added.

HEALTHY RESULTS

Michael Griffin said application of sound business principles would bring healthy results in public affairs. He favored tax relief for homeowners who improve their properties.

A. W. Toone said establishment of a vocational training institute here would provide training in valuable skills for local citizens and also attract people from other areas with money to spend. He also favored an industrial commission to bring in new industry.

C. M. Parrott, a former school trustee, said the present method of financing education needs to be overhauled.

W. C. Hudson said if he was elected to city council he would ask a lot of questions on the subject of attracting secondary industry to Victoria.

Mary King B.C. Chief Of Welfare

Appointment of Miss Mary K. King as superintendent of child welfare for B.C. was announced yesterday by Social Welfare Minister Wesley Black.

She will take over her duties Jan. 1, succeeding Miss Ruby McKay, who is resigning in a difference over provincial government policies.

Miss McKay, who has held the job for the past 16 years, has stated she will not detail her complaints until after she retires.

The new superintendent has twice held the post of deputy superintendent, latterly since 1958. She was born in Victoria and educated here. She has had close to 30 years of experience in social work and particularly in child welfare.

Miss King graduated from the Royal Jubilee Hospital in 1929 and following several years in the nursing field became, in 1932, the first social worker with the Victoria Children's Aid Society.

Taxes, Planning Saanich Issues

Taxation, planning and industrial development were the main issues at the first all-candidate meeting in Saanich's December election, held last night.

Thirteen of the 15 candidates attended. Only 26 persons—not all of them Saanich voters—heard the speeches. Points made by candidates for election as school trustee in school district 61 included:

COST LIVING

George Curran: "Education expense . . . increases in proportion to the number and intelligence of the pupils. Teachers' salaries should be based on . . . (the cost of living)."

R. B. Hilton: "Some teachers are going to get an increase of $1,265 if they get their demands."

David Nightingale: "If grade schools carried through Grades 1 to 8 and then Grades 9 to 12 in high school children would assimilate the work better."

Points made by candidates for council:

Frank Beamish: "We should have a full-time paid commissioner to encourage light industry to come here. Saanich is being outstripped industrially."

DIFFICULT PERIOD

R. W. Chard: "Saanich is facing a difficult period and controlled development is the only answer."

Stanley Eden: "Many people today are having a hard time to meet their taxes and keep a roof over their heads."

Robert Fleming: "We are governed chiefly by a reeve and about two councillors. Businessmen in some cases have been so frustrated (over zoning) that we have lost some very desirable business."

Albert Hull: "One of the greatest needs . . . is a broader field of taxation for school purposes."

POT HOLES

Mrs. Beatrice Mundell: "My stand and what I am after is local improvements . . . It is for the pensioners that these things should be done—pot holes, ditches, sidewalks and street lights."

Cunningham MacMillan: "We are facing a serious year in 1961 and many problems will have to be dealt with."

Lionel Speller: "I want to ask you who made this (new sign) bylaw? I leave it to you to find out . . . The B.C. Telephone Company wanted to build in Saanich and the council turned it down. We need that kind of business."

LONG WAY

Harold Todd: "Practical planning for Saanich will go a long way towards making it a good place to live. We should seek a better tax deal from the government. We should encourage all developments we can."

Mrs. Mira Yarwood: "Saanich's development must be more unified. More compact development does reduce cost of services and it does attract industry. This would increase our total assessment and it would help."

Wants No Pay While Absent

Ald. Arthur Dowell, standing for re-election with the public understanding that he will be away for five or six months next year on a European tour, said yesterday he wants to make clear that "I would specifically insist on receiving no remuneration during my leave of absence."

'Mr. Victoria' to Follow 'Birds' Into Retirement

Capital Notebook
By Peter Bruton

CHANGE OF COMMAND: George I. Warren—"Mr. Victoria"—is due to retire as director of the Victoria Automobile Club early next year.

It is understood he will be succeeded by Cmdr. John Leeming, who recently retired from the RCN.

Mr. Warren devised the popular tourist slogan "Follow the birds to Victoria" which has now been done away with after 30 years of valiant service.

HIGHWAY PATROL: With Yuletide fast approaching and traffic getting thicker and thicker, it isn't enough just to have money in the parking meters these days.

Yesterday the column spotted a commissionaire on Yates Street about noon ticketing a car which still had 11 minutes on the clock.

Inquiries to city traffic chief Ron Worsley at City Hall brought the explanation that the motorist had probably been at the meter for longer than an hour and had put more money in the slot. This, it seems, is a big problem.

ONE-SIDED: Something's just going to have to be done about Uruguay's trade imbalance with Canada.

According to the provincial bureau of statistics, in a summary of imports and exports through B.C. customs ports for last May, Uruguay exported goods valued at $6 and imported products worth $59,362.

* * *

DUAL THREAT?: Esquimalt-Saanich Liberals are now saying they're sure of victory in the coming by-election because their standard-bearer Capt. David W. Groos will win both Liberal and Conservative votes.

They are referring, of course, to the disclosure here that Capt. Groos was still a card-carrying member of the Progressive Conservative Association when he won the Liberal nomination. Incidentally, Capt. Groos still, as of last night, hadn't resigned his Tory membership!

Nevertheless, Esquimalt-Saanich Liberal Association president John Gardner says his group "after full examination of the facts surrounding the newspaper stories concerning our candidate . . . reaffirms its wholehearted confidence in him."

Also worthy of mention: Capt. Groos is a son-in-law of the late Harry E. Pooley, one-time Conservative attorney-general in B.C.

* * *

ON HIGH SEAS: Victoria's famous schooner, the Black Dog, which left these waters a few months ago with Captain William Tellier at the helm, was spotted the other day in the Caribbean.

A former Victorian, now working at Aruba in the Netherlands Antilles, sent a letter to a friend here saying he had sailed alongside the black-hulled schooner during a recent cruise.

MOMENT OF TRUTH: Three Canadian Pacific Railway trucks quietly slipped onto the government's fast ferries between Swartz Bay and Tsawwassen yesterday.

It is believed the first time the CPR trucks have used the government service, which is in competition with the CPR itself on the Nanaimo-Vancouver run.

CAFE DE LA PAIX — GLITTERING ROMAN — UMBRELLA — ACHILLES — MAGIC KINGDOM — MEDIUM HAPPINESS

Tokyo's Belles' International Hair Styles

Your Problems

By Ann Landers

Dear Ann: I'm a business man who has been around plenty (used to be in the merchant marine). For the life of me I don't know why so many guys who write to you with their troubles mention the dimensions of their babes. Maybe that's why they have trouble—they go looking for a wife with a tape-measure instead of using common sense.

One jerk who wrote to you said he hated to lose the chick (who lifted his wallet, yet) and added mournfully, "she's 38-24-34." He wanted to know if she could be "rehabilitated." It would serve the clown right if after he married her she turned out to 26-24-36. Lingerie shops have the most amazing gadgets these days.

Not only should these morons consider the possibility of an optical illusion, but the shape of things has been known to change with the passing of time and the arrival of three or four kids.

Thanks for letting me have my say, Ann. I couldn't resist the chance to play.—ANDY LANDERS.

Dear Andy: Thanks for those words of wisdom. Coming from a male they should have more impact. If more men listened to, instead of looked at, what they were marrying, my mail would be much lighter.

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a widow who is going with a widower. We are both in our 50s, sensible, educated, and we get along well.

Lawrence has many friends about whom he speaks often. I have not met them. He has suggested we just drop in on them. I say it's impolite to "drop in" on people. Lawrence says I'm too formal and his friends have expressed a desire to meet me and suggested he bring me over any time.

It is my contention that "drop in anytime" is no invitation. We've discussed this a good bit and he suggested I write to you for the final word. I was delighted, because I've been reading your column long enough to know what you'll say. So—please say it.—CONFIDENT.

Dear Confident: Tell Lawrence that when his friends get so eager to meet you that they tell him exactly when to bring you over (like a specific evening) you'll be happy to go. Not until.

A suggestion that you "drop in sometime" is not an invitation. It's a meaningless conversational gambit.

Dear Ann: A child in our neighborhood is mentally ill. When the mother goes shopping she leaves the girl to roam the streets. There are other children in the family but they seem to be busy with their own playmates.

This child is in her early teens now and I'm afraid some unscrupulous scoundrel may take advantage of her. She's not bad-looking but it's obvious that she has the mentality of a six or seven-year-old.

Last year I carefully broached the subject to her mother. She lit into me saying she didn't need any suggestions on how to care for her children. Will you please tell me what I can do to help this girl without getting into trouble with the family?—A FRIEND.

Dear Friend: Notify the local juvenile authorities. I'm confident they'll come through with the help the girl and her mother need.

Polygamy Downright Impractical

OTTAWA (UPI) — Mrs. Josie Quart of Quebec, the Senate's newest distaff member, devoted part of her maiden speech in the Senate today to polygamy. She's agin it.

"Many men in eastern countries have joined with the women and have voted for the abolition of polygamy," she told her fellow senators. "Maybe they find it costs too much to keep many wives."

Or as a Sheik in the Middle East said, she said, "One wife is a necessity; two wives luxury; three wives waste, and four wives, punishment."

Man-Tailored for Femininity

Only a man-tailored coat could so enhance femininity. The coat buttons to the neck, has strapped sleeves and a deep vent at the back. Shown at a ready-made show in London, it was a Scottish tweed.

In London

British Wools Keyed To Canadian Tastes

LONDON — The Fashion House Group of London has just held it's fourth London Fashion week, with buyers from all over the world in attendance.

It is a joint dress show to display to buyers from abroad the immense variety of styles and the high standard of workmanship that keeps Britain the leader in the ready-to-wear business today.

The show displayed the garments of 27 members in the group, and their 23 associates who make fabrics. Woollens used ranged from beautiful Scottish Tweeds, Yorkshire and West of England worsteds to sleek mixtures of "Terylene" and wool, silk and wool, etc.

Garments ranged from country coats, suits and skirts to smart town wear, cocktail and evening wear and beach clothes.

It was noticeable that British manufacturers now have a much greater understanding of requirements in the Canadian market. The lighter weight woollens, the sleeveless dresses with soft jackets, or suits with soft blouses were all suitable for the warmer Canadian homes.

In the spring many of these beautiful clothes will be in Canadian stores.

What's Cooking

By LOUISE MOORE

The Danish Foreign Minister, Mr. Jens Otto Krag, certainly knew how to win his audience at the newspaper food editors' conference at the Waldorf in New York. His speech was short and to the point.

A brief resume of the many convenience foods exported from Denmark, a warm invitation to visit his country, winding up with "I would rather let the food speak for itself"—and it didn't take long for the editors to find their way to the most lavish and colorful cold table—known in Denmark as Smorgaasbord—our speaker didn't need to wish us "Bon Appetit."

Of course, the Danes believe that the way to a tourist's heart is through his stomach and they surely carried out this maxim to perfection. Menus in Denmark are often four feet long and the menu presented at the Danish banquet didn't fall far short of it.

So if eating is your major operation here are some of the Danish dishes sampled at the party. Some you may wish to serve at the festive season.

PICKLED HERRING

Split a salt herring lengthwise and remove bones and skin. Cut each half into 4 or 5 pieces and let soak for 24 hours in cold water. Then place them in a dressing consisting of vinegar, sweetened to taste, whole pepper-corns, bay leaves and onions.

Serve in a glass bowl and top with onion rings.

CURRY SALAD

Season mayonnaise to taste with curry powder; then mix in chopped hard-cooked egg, cucumber, tomato, small bits of salted herring, thin strips of beef tongue and celery.

The curry gives the finest taste if you heat it briefly with a little butter in a frying pan before use.

MARINATED MUSHROOMS

Season mayonnaise to taste with salt and sugar. Clean and rinse mushrooms well, then steam them in a casserole with a little butter and the juice of one lemon.

Leave to cool; then blend them with the mayonnaise. Serve with lettuce.

DANISH HAM AND ASPARAGUS ROLLS

Slice Danish ham, spread with a mixture of 2 tblsp. butter, 2 tsp. prepared mustard and place 4 stalks of asparagus on each slice of ham. Roll, heat and serve with cheese sauce — a nice luncheon dish.

STUFFED EGGS IN DANISH LIVERPASTE

Soften the liver paste with 2 tblsp. lemon juice and add 1 tsp. finely chopped parsley. Garnish each cap with pimiento.

DANISH MEAT BALLS

Put through mincer two or three times—1 lb. lean pork and 1 lb. veal and 1 medium size onion. Mix and add salt and pepper to taste; gradually beat in 1 cup flour along with 5 eggs, one at a time until thoroughly mixed, constantly stirring or beating.

Add 2 pints milk and mix well. Shape into small balls with a spoon and fry in butter.

Serve with red cabbage cooked in lightly salted water to which a little vinegar is added and a bit of dripping.

When tender, drain and sweeten with a little sugar and red currant jelly. Nice for your next informal party.

FRESH FRUIT SALAD

Boil up quickly to a syrup and then leave to cool—2 pints water, 1½ cups sugar, rind of 3 oranges and 2 lemons.

Mix in serving dish or glass bowl diced apples, pears, bananas, pineapple, apricots, orange sections, cherries and grapes or whatever combination available. Add the fruit flavored syrup and sprinkle with liquor. Place bowl on block of ice and serve.

Early Bakers Venerated

Throughout the Roman Empire the miller and the baker were venerated. They were important citizens, for of all citizens it was the miller and the baker who provided the bread upon which life depended. In the Middle Ages in Central Europe, the miller was not only venerated, but feared, as the man who harnessed the wild free streams and converted the long fields of wheat into the flour which the baker used for his bread. The miller lived close to the earth and many regarded him as a link between man, the wildness of nature and the gods whom man worshipped.

Jamaica's History Heard at Meeting

PORT ALBERNI—Jamaica was described as a country of colorful flowers, perpetual summer and happy people by Mrs. Gwen Brown, a member of A. W. Neill Junior High School teaching staff, who was guest speaker at the Alberni Valley Citizenship Council meeting recently.

Mrs. Brown, a native of Jamaica, told of the island's history dating back to the time of Columbus; of the buccaneers who contributed to the history, and of how Sir Henry Morgan gave up life on the high seas and became the country's governor.

The effect of the earthquake in 1692 when Port Royal sank beneath the sea, the disappearing lakes, and the limestone caverns were all part of the story of Jamaica told by the speaker.

She described a caste system including a proud and clean-living peasantry, the professional middle class with a very high educational standard and a capitalist class of which some members have had no education at all.

There are no Old Age Pensions nor Family Allowance payments on the Island and the only persons who come under a pension plan are teachers and civil servants.

The great variety of fruit and foods, an equable climate and beautiful scenery all contribute to a pleasant life on the Island of Jamaica, according to the speaker.

She also pointed out that the island is over-populated, there are housing problems and slums around the metropolitan area of Kingston-St. Andrews, and there are not enough jobs for the large number of skilled and qualified persons.

Physical features of the 144-mile long island, the country's relation to the British Commonwealth and the feeling of the people towards England, the educational system and the apprenticeship system were all described briefly by Mrs. Brown.

Miss Hazel Reeve, December bride-elect, was honored at a shower recently at the home of Mrs. H. N. Davies, 986 Esquimalt Road. Co-hostess was Miss Ann Davies. The guest of honor and her mother, Mrs. Dick Reeve, were presented with white and mauve chrysanthemums. Gifts were presented from a decorated clothes basket. Guests were members of the Esquimalt High School graduating class of 1959 and included Misses Fern Abbott, Betty-Ann Hawkins, Frances Chapman, Sherri Smith, Donna Davis, Betty Armstrong, Carol Deaville, Avril Brett, Marilyn Gibson, Sharon Mitchell, Danoe O'Flynn, Ceceila Kerridge, Valerie Howell, Joyce Staniforth and Mrs. W. Dakers.

New Service Now in Operation

For Message of Inspiration—Just Dial

Brief daily messages of inspiration and encouragement are now available to any Greater Victoria residents who may need a spiritual boost, simply by turning a dial.

All that's needed is to pick up the telephone and dial EV 5-2611. This will bring the caller a message recorded by Rev. Robert D. Holmes, pastor of Central Baptist Church, which is sponsoring this new service.

"Dial-a-thoughts" will be changed daily and will be available to all who may need them for 24 hours every day. Already in use in other Canadian and United States cities, this service, with its one-minute messages, has proved so popular that the line is busy day and night.

The service was launched by the Board of Central Baptist Church after seeking some means to reach people who are unable to attend church. It was thought this would also help provide a continuous extension ministry for church members and others who might desire daily encouragement.

'We Are Making History'

Religious 'Ice' Broken By Pope, Archbishop

ROME (Reuters)—Pope John and the Archbishop of Canterbury agreed during a 65-minute private meeting Friday on the need to "increase brotherly feelings" among all Christians—Roman Catholic and Protestant.

It was the first meeting between the Catholic and Anglican church leaders since Pope Boniface IX received Thomas of Arundel in 1397.

Dr. Geoffrey Fisher, 73, greeted the Pontiff, 79, with the words: "Your Holiness, we are making history."

They shook hands before the talks in the Pope's library.

It was an unusually long audience. The normal papal audience lasts between 15 and 30 minutes.

ABOUT CRITICS

Dr. Fisher, asked about Anglican criticism of his trip, said: "Some very Protestant groups were afraid as they thought of the visit as a sign of surrender — but there was no sign and there was never meant to be any."

One Vatican source commented: "The ice has been broken."

LOWER LEVEL

Another called the meeting "friendly and realistic." He said doctrinal questions were not discussed but that "this might be the start of other meetings" at a lower level.

The Pope gave the archbishop a silver medal and a number of volumes, including his speeches. The archbishop gave the Pontiff a white vellum copy of the order of the service for the coronation of Queen Elizabeth.

NEVER INTENDED

The archbishop's office emphasized it never was intended the meeting should consider particular issues.

"The meeting retained throughout the character of a visit of courtesy," a statement said. "It was marked by a happy spirit of cordiality."

GREAT DESIRE

It also said: "His Holiness expressed to the archbishop his great desire to increase brotherly feelings among all men and especially among all Christians, and the archbishop confirmed out of his knowledge and experience how keen and widespread was the desire in many churches to act for the same purpose."

Asked if he thought his meeting with the Pope had contributed in lessening the "cold war" between the churches, Dr. Fisher said: "Good examples are sometimes imitated by other people. If it is imitated it will mean relaxation of a certain coldness which existed."

Church Officials Agree On Tourist Lure Plan

Suggestion of Victoria sightseeing driver "Rebel" Mowat that churches of this city might do more to attract tourists has met with favor among church officials.

Mr. Mowat returned recently from a trip to New York, where he found thousands of tourists visiting the city's churches, drawn by leaflets describing the structures and their histories.

Most Rev. Harold Sexton, Archbishop of British Columbia, was one who approved the idea, finding it particularly appropriate for Christ Church Cathedral. He plans to confer on the subject with Dean Brian Whitlow.

Rev. F. E. H. James of Metropolitan United Church has already appointed a special committee to study methods for publicizing his big, historic downtown church.

Other ministers agreed tourists would probably find much of interest in the downtown churches and in some of the more picturesque country churches nearby.

THE VOICE OF ONE

By REV. DR. FRANK S. MORLEY

Existentialism is the faith that truth can only be known in existence, in experience, and that the important reality is the immediate situation. It includes among its followers men who are violently atheist and men who are devotedly Christian.

What strange bed-fellows are covered by the existentialist blanket — Kierkegaard and Sartre, Marcel and Jaspers, Augustine and Rousseau, Pascal and Heidigger, Bultmann and Schelling!

Existentialism is a mysticism and a way of life. It stands in sharp opposition to the Greek and Platonist traditions in science and philosophy which, they contend, confined themselves to universal essences to the virtual exclusion of individual existence.

Yet how can existentialism exist without "essentialism?" To be a creator a man must have both a creative essence and existential material. Ironically Kierkegaard, the passionately Christian primitive, is generally credited with creating both Christian and atheistic existentialism.

Leap of Faith

Kierkegaard emphasized commitment — the leap of faith — by which all truth comes. In contrast to Descartes' dictum, "I think, therefore I am," he maintained, "I struggle, therefore I am." He insisted that, since God was transcendent, man cannot find God but God must come to man.

Both Barth and Brunner were greatly influenced by Kierkegaard, though they reacted violently later. The dangers seen by Barth become very apparent in Bultmann, that Christianity fades into a mere philosophy and the unique event of Christ's salvation in His Incarnation, Crucifixion and Resurrection, dissolves into a "man-centred, psychological, or sociological myth."

One of the most profoundly influential contemporaries is Martin Buber who claims that meaning consists of "orientation" and realization"—on the one hand an objective, creative attitude to the environment and one's experience, and on the other discovery of life's inner meaning through intense existence. "All real living is meeting."

European existentialism is closely related to the peculiarly American philosophy of pragmatism, which Dewey did so much to popularize. It also has a fascinating resemblance to Buddhism.

Man Is Alone

Man is alone in the world; he must make himself.

His two dominant characteristics are his "nothingness" and his "thirst" for meaningful transcendence, which brings him at last to a stoical "holy hypochondria." In wrestling with the basic problem of "the annihilating nothingness" of non-being with being, the awareness of finitude and the problem of death, we understand why anxiety is a pervasive feature of our age.

Existentialism is anti-civilization and anti-rational; however, it has two magnificent achievements to its credit. It has made every man a theologian and has forced theologians to be relevant to man. Philosophy has been dug out of the stuffy study and brought into the streets to deal with the total human personality, while the theologians have been rescued from the dry bones of systematic theology.

We are challenged to face squarely the evil and suffering of our time. Religious truth unconditionally involves the whole existence of man and is neither aesthetic, like the arts, nor esoteric, like philosophy. Theology again is conversation, not shoved off in a corner.

If you've looked at the rest, come in and look at the best at 935 Fort St. For instance, we have the pride of Scandinhoovia—the Volvo—which in our opinion (shared by thousands of owners) is one of the world's truly fine cars. Swedish engineers and craftsmen have combined to produce a car that is unique in its field, combining sports car performance with family sedan room and comfort. No other car offers so much for so little. And, hold your breath: prices start at $2,095 delivered in Victoria. That's why we ask you to come in and let us show you this distinguished car. w.g.e.

The bidding:

West	North	East	South
Pass	Pass	1 ♡	Dbl.
2 ♡	3 ♡	Pass	3 ♠
Pass	4 ♠	All Pass

Opening lead: ♡ 2

Nowadays, the cue bid is used for so many situations that even expert players get in trouble. Sometimes they use it to ask whether partner has the opponents' suit stopped; sometimes they use it to show a stopper; sometimes it shows first-round control and a big hand; sometimes it shows a weak kind of takeout double.

The one situation in which the bid is clear is the kind of cuebid so effectively used by North in today's deal.

No brief is held for South's takeout double. He has three defensive tricks, so the chances are slim that the opponents can make game if partner has a single winner; he has no distribution and no intermediate cards and may go for a disastrous penalty if partner has very little, or if partner has a fair hand and does a lot of bidding on the strength of South's double. South should have passed; perhaps North could have come into the bidding with a double when West raised his partner's one heart bid to two hearts.

However, South did double and North made a nice bid, forcing partner to take his choice of suits and then carrying on to game. To justify his light double, South had to play the hand with proper technique.

The opening heart lead was trumped in dummy, preserving South's stopper. A low trump was led and East's nine was allowed to win. Another heart lead was trumped in dummy. Now North's last trump was won by South's ace and a low club led to dummy's ten-spot.

East took the club king and returned another heart, won by South's ace. Another club finesse succeeded, the ace dropped the queen and South got rid of his losing diamond on dummy's fourth club, losing only two trumps and one club trick.

Too often a player will mishandle this situation, winning the first heart and immediately trumping one in dummy, then leading to his ace of spades and ruffing another heart. Now declarer can't get out of dummy except by leading a diamond, and the defenders can establish the setting trick before declarer can draw trumps and set up dummy's fourth club.

POST AND BEAM CONTEMPORARY

Here is a truly beautiful contemporary post-and-beam constructed home. Let us look at some of the features: 1,500 sq. ft. of masonry and beautiful wood beams and panelling. The cathedral entrance brings you into a spacious living room with a solid floor-to-ceiling Swedish brick fireplace with floating hearth on the entire right wall, glass and aluminum sliding doors to patio on the south wall and the rest of the decor features attractive wood panelling. The south wall has cantilevered valance board with concealed daylight fixtures addressing the curtains below and projecting upwards to the ceiling. An abstract design panel conceals a hallway leading to 3 good-size bedrooms, all panelled and featuring large step-in clothes closets. Master bedroom has vanity toilet and the master bathroom's 4-pc decor is attractively appointed in wood panelling and Arborite with vanity. Dinette with large windows to south has plenty of built-in cupboards and is adjacent to an attractive lunch counter. The neighboring kitchen is something unusual and a wife's dream. One wall is solid brick, matching the living room fireplace, contains built-in Tappan oven and space for the largest model of refrigerators. One counter contains the built-in Tappan counter-top with hood and fan above. Counter tops are finished in attractive Arborite to match the decor and the wood panelling and cabinets with glass sliding doors give the decor an even balance. From the kitchen you look through the windows to the utility area wired for washer and dryer with access to the basement and driveway. The house has a majestic double carport, giving the design a rustic appearance. The lot is 87x96, situated on the corner of an attractive crescent surrounded by large estates. Fully landscaped with lawns, shrubs and large mature trees. Should be seen.

Christmas Gifts

Teen-Agers Give For Mentally Ill

Andrew Chatten, executive director, Victoria branch of the Canadian Mental Health Association, is convinced there's more good, and good sense, among teen-agers than many realize.

Mr. Chatten recently told a class of Grade 12 boys at Oak Bay High School about the association's annual gift fund, to provide Christmas presents for mental patients in the province.

PRESENTS FOR MEN

Victoria's goal is 3,000, including particularly presents for 292 men patients at the Colquitz mental home.

The response was a pleasant surprise.

D. P. Reimer, the boys' teacher, advised Mr. Chatten that the boys—on their own—raised about $60.

Four of them will represent the group Monday after school in a shopping spree at the Hudson's Bay store.

On top of that, the boys want Mr. Chatten to come back and tell them more about the association and its work.

Deadline for the fund, Mr. Chatten says, has been extended to Dec. 7. Big need is gifts for male patients. Most gifts already received are for women. Gifts should be taken to the White Cross Centre, 1551 Oak Bay.

Police on Way

Feud Flares Up On Africa Border

DURBAN (Reuters) — Police supported by armored cars have been sent to the Harding district near the Natal-Pondoland border, where four Negroes have been killed and several injured in a series of pitched battles during the past two days, it was reported here Friday.

More than 500 men were involved in the clashes between rival Koko and Mbotho factions, using firearms, spears and sticks.

Hundreds of women and children belonging to both factions have fled from their kraals and taken refuge in barns, stables and outhouses belonging to white farms and trading stores in the district.

White farms in the area said the outbreak was confined to the two factions, which have been feuding sporadically for the last 20 years.

Gun Club Fires $500 Blast for 500 Fund

Victoria Gun Club yesterday fulfilled its pledge of at least $500 for this year's Daily Colonist 500 Christmas Fund with a cheque for $353 to be added to an earlier amount of $147.

The club had guaranteed at least $1 for each of Greater Victoria's 500 most needy families, and hopes to raise more through its annual charity turkey shoot.

The shoot will be held at the club's Albert Head grounds on Saturday and Sunday, Dec. 17 and 18, and is open to all comers.

All contestants need to know is how to point a gun and pull a trigger to compete for a ham or turkey. Entrants are graded according to ability and will compete against shooters of equal skill.

The shoot begins at 10 each morning and continues until dusk.

Non-shooters, too, will get a chance to win hams and turkeys. On hand will be entertainment and games for those who just go along for the ride.

Cash donations should be addressed to The Daily Colonist 500 Christmas Fund and mailed to or left at the main office at 2631 Douglas Street or the downtown office, 1215 Broad Street. Don't forget the Victoria Motorcycle Club Scramble at Colwood Race Track starting at 1 p.m. Sunday. Proceeds are for the Colonist 500 Fund.

Dog-Carrying Red Spaceship Fails, Burns

MOSCOW (Reuters) — Russia's latest spaceship-satellite burned up Friday when Russian scientists failed in an attempt to bring it back to earth as planned.

Moscow Radio reported Friday that the third Soviet spaceship-satellite, launched Thursday, ceased to exist when it hit dense layers of the earth's atmosphere after radio orders called it back to earth.

ATMOSPHERE

Moscow Radio said the animal-carrying vehicle descended along an "uncalculated trajectory" and was destroyed in the dense atmosphere. Aboard were two dogs, other animals, insects and plants.

It added that the last stage of the 4½-ton spaceship's carrier rocket continued in orbit around the earth.

NEAR FUTURE

The announcement said the order for the spaceship's return was given after sufficient information had been obtained for a manned space flight in the near future.

Earlier, Viktor Bazykin, director of the Moscow Planetarium, reported that it seemed certain "something" had happened to the spaceship after it fell silent.

Neglect Found In Blast

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP)—A coroner's jury Friday night cited negligence on the part of Union Gas Company of Canada Limited and Jessup Plumbing Limited in the Oct. 25 explosion which wrecked a Metropolitan Stores building.

Ten were killed and more than 80 injured when the explosion—caused by natural gas—collapsed the department store.

The jury brought in its verdict after deliberating seven hours. More than 150 witnesses testified during the four-day hearing.

Return to Farm Jobless Advised

TORONTO (CP) — Instead of crying about being out of work, unemployed city dwellers with farm experience and background should return to the farm where there are jobs, Public Works Minister Connell of Ontario said. Mr. Connell said he has often advertised for experienced help for his own farm but to no avail.

"Wages on many farms are comparable to wages in industry," he said.

RAIL STRIKE BAN PROCLAIMED LAW

Royal Assent Given Bill

OTTAWA (CP)—The railway strike is off. A government ban against the nation-wide rail walkout was proclaimed as law at 6.30 p.m. EST.

After a three-day emergency debate, Parliament ordered 111,000 non-operating rail workers to stay on their jobs and keep the trains running.

TO WIRE

The stop-the-strike law went almost to the wire in its pell-mell push against the strike deadline — set for 8 a.m. local time today.

It faced fierce criticism from the opposition in both the Commons and the Senate, but finally was given royal assent at 6.05 p.m. The formal proclamation followed after a special cabinet meeting.

HALL CONCURS

Chief union spokesman Frank H. Hall issued a statement suspending the strike call and ordering all employees to "remain in service." He was in the Senate gallery as Chief Justice Patrick Kerwin of the Supreme Court of Canada, acting for the Governor-General, gave the legislation royal assent.

The new law postpones any strike action in the rail-union contract scrap until after May 15 — without prejudicing the interest of either disputant.

FREEZES WAGES

In effect, it freezes the wages of the "non-op" rail workers—the clerks, machinists, freight handlers, porters, telegraphers, signalmen and others who do not actually run trains. Their average hourly earnings are $1.77.

Prime Minister Diefenbaker and Labor Minister Starr said in the Commons the law would prevent a national calamity and massive unemployment resulting from a tie-up of the transcontinental trains.

PROPER COURSE

"In the perspective of the days ahead, what we have done will turn out to have been the proper course . . . the course of reason and of common sense," said Mr. Diefenbaker.

Opposition Leader Pearson blasted the government action as an "unjust" method, even though he agreed that the strike had to be stopped.

"We cannot vote to force men to work for wages judged to be substandard," he said.

CRITICAL OF DELAY

CCF Leader Argue hit the government for delaying its action until the strike could be averted but without solving the basic wage issue underlying it.

Unfair Says Pearson

OTTAWA (UPI)—The Diefenbaker government's anti-rail strike legislation hardly had its ink dried last night before opposition leader Lester Pearson was carrying the Liberal party's case against it to the people in a nation-wide radio hook-up.

Pearson used his time on "The Nation's Business" series over CBC to charge that railway workers were not being treated fairly by the strike postponement bill.

He said that "parliament should not seek by legislation to force men to continue to work for wages which are lower than a conciliation board found to be fair and reasonable after a full, careful, and objective inquiry extending over a year and during which every kind of evidence was heard which could be possibly concerned with the issue."

Federal System 'Speared'

OTTAWA (CP) — Senator Arthur Roebuck said Friday the government's bill preventing the railway strike drives a spear through the heart of the federal system for settling labor disputes.

The Toronto Liberal told the Senate shortly before it approved the legislation that the measure makes a farce of collective bargaining.

Senator Roebuck, who often acts in a legal capacity for railway unions, was the only senator who stated he would not vote for the bill.

Surprise! And George Shows It

U.S. Asks Return Of Rocket Bits

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The United States yesterday asked Cuba to return any available fragments of the Satellite rocket which fell on the eastern part of the island two days ago after being launched from Cape Canaveral.

The request was made by the state department through Daniel M. Braddock, acting U.S. ambassador in Havana. Braddock also was told to explain to the Cuban foreign ministry how the incident occurred.

LEARN CAUSES

Department press officer Joseph W. Reap said the United States wanted the fragments "in order that they may be identified and analyzed in an effort to learn the causes of malfunction." He said the rocket involved "has a record of proven reliability."

The Thor-Able-Star rocket, which had been designed to orbit two satellites, developed a malfunction shortly after the launch and was blown up by a safety officer at Cape Canaveral.

STILL OFF COAST

The state department said the decision was made to destroy the rocket when it was still off the coast of Florida and when there was "the greatest possibility of minimizing adverse consequences."

The department said the fact that most of the vehicle fell into the open sea was proof the action was taken at the right time. It added that "unfortunately, according to reports, some fragments of the vehicle fell on Cuban territory."

German Hints

Nikita Winner At Red Summit

BERLIN (Reuters) — East German leader Walter Ulbricht said Friday the Moscow summit conference of Communist leaders agreed the East-West balance of forces has "changed so much it is possible to avoid wars."

Ulbricht's statement on his return was the first public mention of any agreement at the three-week talks.

OTHERS' VIEWS

The conference ended Thursday with a communique saying only the delegates of 81 countries had "exchanged experiences and familiarized themselves with each other's views."

Ulbricht added that although developments in different countries were "many-sided and complicated," the conference reached "unity of view."

WAR AVOIDED

Political quarters in West Berlin said Ulbricht's remarks indicated a victory for Premier Khrushchev's line that war can be avoided.

Chinese Communists are reported pessimistic about the possibility of avoiding world war.

In Moscow, meanwhile, Khrushchev gave president Liu Shao-chi of China the place of honor in a picture published Friday showing the 200 delegates to the Communist summit.

Protestants Protest Papal Visit

LONDON (Reuters) — The British Protestant Alliance last night protested the Archbishop of Canterbury's audience with Pope John.

(See story on Page 18.)

Rev. Robert Hood, an Anglican clergyman, said the visit was "the greatest example of back-sliding and back-pedalling the world has ever seen."

Hood said "with a Roman Catholic president of the United States to lead the free world, and the British heads of government gazing soulfully into the Pope's face, only the blind can fail to see the beginning of a Vatican-centred priest rule of the whole world."

Flaming Tanks Explode

SANTA FE SPRINGS, Calif. (UPI)—A flash fire at the Rothschild Oil Co. refinery last night touched off a series of explosions involving nine huge tanks of high octane gasoline, authorities reported.

Norwalk sheriff's deputies said the nine burning tanks were among a field of 50 tanks and that flames continued at 11 p.m., PST, to threaten another 18 tanks in the field.

Fire chief Elmer Gates of the Downey fire department who assisted in fighting the fire, said he believed the fire was touched off by a spark of static electricity.

Officers said no injuries were reported

Bomb Blasts Wreck Castro Anniversary

HAVANA (UPI)—Bomb terrorists yesterday marked Fidel Castro's observance of the fourth anniversary of his invasion of Cuba which toppled the Fulgencio Batista regime.

Explosions rattled windows in the suburban Vigora and Vedado districts, the first within half a block of an army barracks.

A third bomb went off in a justice ministry courtroom. A fourth was found in a bathroom of the building before it exploded. A fifth unexploded bomb was found near the Cuban Electric Co.

Unconfirmed reports said anti-Castro rebels attempted unsuccessfully last Sunday to kill a top Castro aide. He was said to have escaped the ambush but three bodyguards were killed.

Tough Talk

HAVANA (UPI)—Cuba has warned other sugar-producing countries that it is prepared to wage the "most pitiless competition" unless world sugar quotas are revised to overcome its loss of the U.S. market, Commerce Minister Raul Cepero Bonilla reported yesterday.

Cepero Bonilla added that the majority of the delegates to the council "showed sympathy in private for the point of view of the Cuban delegation in connection with the international sugar situation."

North Pacific 'Buzzing'

Watch Out for Reds U.S. Airlines Told

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Soviet planes have tried to intercept U.S. planes recently near the Kurile Islands in the northwest Pacific, the Federal Aviation Agency disclosed Friday.

A spokesman said the FAA has issued a "notice to airmen" urging U.S. pilots to avoid intrusion on Russian territory in the area.

The FAA cannot give details of the "buzzing and attempted interception" of planes because these have been classified by the State Department, the spokesman added.

But the directive was directed particularly at the two U.S. airlines flying a route near the Kuriles — Northwest Orient and Pan American.

Threat Hangs Over Head

'Santa Claus' Awaits Word on Deportation

* * *

. . . awaits fate

DUNCAN—A "Santa Claus" who entered Canada illegally is waiting here with the threat of deportation hanging over his head.

He is Charles "Aussie" Green, 40, a part-time store Santa Claus, who any day is expecting the final word on his case with the immigration department. His "year of grace" as a probationary Canadian is over.

LIVED AT CROFTON

Mr. Green lived at nearby Crofton for almost two years undetected, but then gave himself up to immigration officials when he was being blackmailed.

Yesterday he said: "I have kept myself. I continued to show during that time that I could keep out of trouble. I think I have established myself and hope the immgiration people think so too."

JUMPED SHIP

The sailor from England jumped ship at Montreal in August, 1955, and gave himself up late in 1958 after an acquaintance saw him drop his passport. He was going by the alias Charles Ewing. The passport had his real name in it.

Deportation proceedings were started but friends got nearly 500 names on petitions and 32 letters of recommendation.

YEAR AGO

A year ago a letter was received from Ellen Fairclough, minister of immigration, stating: "I have made a further study into Mr. Green's case and have decided to grant him a stay of deportation proceedings for a period of one year.

"So his care will be favorably considered he must satisfy me that he has made an honest effort to establish himself in Canada."

Said Mr. Green, "During the year I followed construction from here to Prince Rupert, Castlegar, Revelstoke and back. Nearly each place was a different boss. I didn't sit and wait for the jobs, I went out and got them and I haven't been on unemployment insurance, although I can get it."

Lumber Exports Higher

CHEMAINUS — Lumber exports from here this year will definitely be higher than in any of the last three years, customs figures show.

So far this year there have been 165,160,400 feet exported to the end of November.

Already the figure is 38,000,000 feet above last year, a mere 400,000 feet below 1958 and 12,000,00 feet more than 1957. By the end of this month the total is expected to be at least 10,000,000 feet more than in 1958.

The United Kingdom has been the biggest customer.

PORT ALBERNI — Alberni Valley Junior Chamber of Commerce has announced that Jaycees will conduct their second annual Christmas lighting contest in the Twin Cities.

An invitation has been extended to every householder in Alberni and Port Alberni to enter the contest. Entry is free.

John Mitchell, chairman of the committee, said that homes will be judged from Dec. 26 and 28 between 6 and 10 p.m.

"Application of good lighting principles, originality and individual expression will form the basis on which entries will be judged," he said.

TV Trash Spurs Reading

By CHARLES THOMPSON

COWICHAN STATION — Trash on television is driving adults back to books.

And although children like TV it is awakening in them the desire to read books that they might never have otherwise heard about.

So things are looking up in the book business, says Mrs. Magnus Colvin, one of the last of the original "home librarians" who were first appointed in the province more than 25 years ago.

"All in all I'd say that things have changed since then. There are fewer readers among the younger people but more among the adults," she said yesterday, showing row after row of public books on the front porch of her home.

The Carnegie Institute started the regional library system with a grant of more than $100,000 to the Fraser Valley area in 1930. About four years later ratepayers approved the idea and voted to continue it with the cost added to taxes.

In 1936, said Vancouver Island regional librarian William Taggart, the Island and Okanagan voted to start the system. The following spring Mrs. Colvin was one of some 60 home librarians on the Island.

Mr. Taggart said yesterday, "Mrs. Colvin is the last of the originals as far as we know, and we wouldn't do anything to change the way she is handling things."

All but the inaccessible areas have replaced the home library with bookmobiles, but not here.

"Television has many younger people captured, and many adults like the educational programs and good drama, but there is so much trash that it is driving them back to books," said Mrs. Colvin.

Mr. Taggart agreed that residents of the area are avid readers.

Mrs. Colvin's library hours are "anytime and all the time, seven days a week."

She rarely charges fines when books are late, feeling that some people are not able to get around very often.

In Duncan Hospital

Lone Driver Hurtles 40 Feet Through Air

DUNCAN — Police are investigating an accident which took place early yesterday, sending a lone motorist to hospital after his car rocketed off the Trans-Canada Highway, six miles north of here.

In fair condition is Helge Bakens, 931 Wharncliffe, with a severe left knee injury and head lacerations.

It is believed there were no eye-witnesses to the accident shortly after 7 a.m. about a quarter of a mile south of Mount Sicker Road.

Bakens was coming down a slight grade into a right-hand turn on his way to work.

There were tire tracks on gravel on the left side of the road, but none on the hard surface. The car went more than 40 feet through the air before it nosed down and rolled several times, ending upright, straddling a wire fence.

13.2 Inches Of Rain

ALBERNI — A total of 13.25 inches of precipitation was recorded in November at McCoy Lake weather station, observer C. S. Wilson announced.

The November total brought the figure for the first 11 months of 1960 to 71.51 inches. The annual average is 68.3 inches.

Mr. Wilson reported a high of 55 degrees on Nov. 2 and a low of 20 on Nov. 3 and 21. The mean temperature for the month was 39.6 degrees.

Golden Age Home-Opening Marks Work of Four Years

PARKSVILLE — Culmination of four years of planning and hard work will come Dec. 10 at the official opening of low rental housing units for senior citizens now completed on Weld Road in Parksville.

The Golden Age Housing Society was formed to administer the project, and the official opening will be a proud occasion for directors who had to overcome one setback after another before the program could be completed.

TO OFFICIATE

Dan Campbell, MLA, an ardent supporter of the project, will officiate at a cornerstone laying ceremony and the official opening will be conducted by Richard W. Primmer, a director of the Society. Mr. Primmer was one of the first to visualize the plan for the low rental homes.

It is now some four years since Mr. Primmer spearheaded the campaign.

A door to door canvass was conducted to raise a foundation fund and the balance was provided by a grant from the government and a long term loan from Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation.

The Corporation has provisionally set rental for each unit at $38.75 for couples plus the cost of electricity.

Accommodation includes a living room, kitchen, bedroom, bathroom and cupboards and there is a central laundry room equipped with washer and dryer for the use of all tenants.

Directors report that there are still a few vacancies and at present the homes are being reserved for residents of Parksville-Qualicum and surrounding areas.

182 More Jobless In Alberni Area

PORT ALBERNI — There are 182 more unemployment insurance claimants in this area than there were at the same time last year.

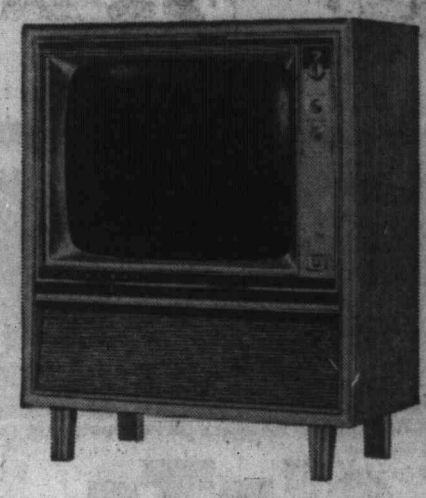

According to a report from the local National Employment Service office, 751 persons were receiving benefits on Nov. 30 as compared to 569 on the same date in 1959.

A 50 per cent increase in lumber and sawmill occupation registrations was reported and it was stated that registration in construction occupations and from truck and tractor operators are up slightly over the previous year.

Unplaced applicants, including all people seeking employment through NES, whether or not they are claimants, numbered 992 at the end of November. The 1959 figure was 808.

An increase of $21,866 was shown in the amount paid out in November of this year for benefits, bringing the figure for the month to $48,878.

SPCA Complaint

Pound Letter Ignored

An SPCA spokesman yesterday complained that no official response has been forthcoming to a month-old request that Saanich immediately improve conditions in the municipal pound.

The pound operation was "condemned" after SPCA officials from Victoria and Vancouver made an inspection of the facilities Oct. 25.

Victoria SPCA branch president Cameron Webster, in a letter to Saanich council Nov. 5, said conditions under which animals were kept in the pound had been cause of increasing concern over the months. He said the society had no alternative but to condemn the operation.

N. H. Stephens, secretary-manager of the Victoria branch, said yesterday he phoned Reeve George Chatterton this week to ask when the society president's letter would be placed before council.

NO CONTACT

He was told that the reeve had ordered an official approach to be made to the society, asking for the SPCA to take over task of destroying unclaimed animals as a temporary measure. So far, however, no contact has been made with the branch, Mr. Stephens said.

The SPCA president's letter said structural deficiencies in the pound buildings are aggravated by lack of attention given to the animals kept there.

SIX KENNELS

It said six kennels in the main building are connected with a single uncovered exercise area outside. The letter went on: "This permits indiscriminate mating of females, undue transmission of disease, and attacks by vicious dogs on smaller ones."

There are no heating facilities in the pound, no electric light, and a lack of proper sleeping and sanitary facilities, the letter said.

On the day Mr. Stephens and Thomas Hughes, executive director of the provincial SPCA, inspected the pound there were dead animals left lying near the door, it added.

DIVIDE AREA

The society asked Saanich to install a translucent plastic roof and divide the exercise area into runs matching the kennels inside. Along with adequate heat and light and supervision the SPCA requested that an electric shock killing device be installed to replace the present carbon monoxide method.

$400,000 Beach Park Project Starts in Big Way in '61

Saanich Busy Acquiring Last of 17-Acre Site

Construction of a $400,000 beach park at Cadboro Bay will begin "in a big way" next year, Reeve George Chatterton said last night.

Saanich council is at present acquiring ownership of two parcels of land in the area, the last of 17 acres needed for the development.

Expropriation proceedings have been started for three acres owned by Lee Gan and the estate of Chu Sing Hore.

Council this week reached agreement with Capt. William Gregory and Miss Doris Lyne, owners of The Tea Caddy at Cadboro Bay, to buy the property for $8,650.

"When we have the two outstanding parcels of land we will control the whole waterfront," Reeve Chatterton said. "Next year we can start developing it in a fairly big way.

By Far the Best

"It will be by far the best beach park in the whole of the Greater Victoria area—in the whole Saanich Peninsula."

The development plan, prepared by Saanich planner Antony Parr, includes an Olympic-size swimming pool, boat launching ramp, creation of a park and picnic area, construction of a restaurant and service buildings, playground for children and a protected swimming area on the beach front.

The 17-acre site will have a beach frontage of 4,000 feet and a depth of about 850 feet. It will include the existing Cadboro-Gyro Park, 4.37 acres already developed by Victoria Gyro Club. The club has promised its support to the scheme.

A three-stage development plan has been prepared for the park—each stage costing some $100,000.

Land Acquisition

First stage, which is under way at present, includes acquisition of the land, filling of low-lying land, construction of a parking lot, seeding the area and installation of playground and picnic equipment.

The swimming pool, tentatively planned to measure 82 feet by 42 feet and capable of being filled with either sea water or fresh water, will not be built for some time.

"The improvements to the marine drive from the gates of Uplands to Sinclair Road—which leads down to the park area—give an excellent approach," Reeve Chatterton said last night. "The park will be the terminus of the marine drive."

Much of the land in the 17-acre site is low-lying and fill will come from the sewerage scheme proposed for the area which will be voted on this month by local residents.

New Boxes for Good Cause

New type of collection boxes like the one shown here by Mrs. Jessie Jonnison, 1325 Fairfield Road, will be used by Salvation Army carollers when they start Christmas season rounds on Monday evening.—(Colonist photo.)

Figures Show Need

New Detention Home Committee's Target

Greater Victoria juvenile detention home committee is supplying figures to the intermunicipal committee on use of the present home which it hopes will lead to construction of a new home soon, Ald. Mrs. Lily Wilson said yesterday.

Intermunicipal committee at its last meeting laid aside the question of building a new home after Reeve George Chatterton of Saanich suggested it ought to see how operation of the home was affected by the new joint juvenile and family court.

FIGURES SUPPLIED

Figures on the numbers and ages of children detained at the present home are being supplied, Ald. Wilson said, "although we can't exactly foretell the future. But we are not planning a home for more children—just a home with more facilities."

Complaint of the detention home committee has been that the present home on Coldharbor Road has no facilities for handling the more violent youngsters, no means of segregating eight and nine-year-olds from older juveniles accused of acts of violence and even sexual offences, and no enclosed outside exercise area.

Cow Elk Killers Fined $500 Each

NANAIMO — Two men accused by Magistrate Lionel Beevor Potts of "killing for killing's sake" were fined $500 apiece here yesterday for killing three cow elk last Sunday near Nanaimo Lakes.

Gunter Eschment and Horst Hans Mueller, Vancouver, pleaded guilty.

The magistrate described the men as a hazard in the woods to animals as well as other human beings and said it was "disgraceful, indiscriminate shooting."

The magistrate ordered their hunting licences cancelled immediately and their guns confiscated by the Crown.

Known for his strong stand on fish and game laws, he said he would put through a strong recommendation that neither man ever be issued a licence again in the province of British Columbia.

Both he and provincial game warden Frank Greenfield praised the work done by local hunters in reporting the incident and aiding in the men's apprehension.

Local men saw the shooting of the elk take place in a cleared slash area and reported it to the company gate where the police and game department were notified. Three cow elk were found in the cleared area about 50 yards apart.

Magistrate Beevor Potts also ordered fines and costs paid forthwith, in default of which the accused would spend six months in jail.

"City council decided that it couldn't see that it is in a position to be interested in these proposals, certainly at the present time," Mayor Scurrah said.

Non-shooters, too, will get a chance to win hams and turkeys. On hand will be entertainment and games for those who just go along for the ride.

Dog-Carrying Spaceship Fails, Burns

MOSCOW (Reuters) — Russia's latest spaceship-satellite burned up Friday when Russian scientists failed in an attempt to bring it back to earth as planned.

Moscow Radio reported Friday that the third Soviet spaceship-satellite, launched Thursday, ceased to exist when it hit dense layers of the earth's atmosphere after radio orders called it back to earth.

ATMOSPHERE

Moscow Radio said the animal-carrying vehicle descended along an "uncalculated trajectory" and was destroyed in the dense atmosphere. Aboard were two dogs, other animals, insects and plants.

It added that the last stage of the 4½-ton spaceship's carrier rocket continued in orbit around the earth.

NEAR FUTURE

The announcement said the order for the spaceship's return was given after sufficient information had been obtained for a manned space flight in the near future.

Earlier, Viktor Bazykin, director of the Moscow Planetarium, reported that it seemed certain "something" had happened to the spaceship after it fell silent at 2 a.m. PST.

Neglect Found In Blast

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP)—A coroner's jury Friday night cited negligence on the part of Union Gas Company of Canada Limited and Jessup Plumbing Limited in the Oct. 25 explosion which wrecked a Metropolitan Stores building.

Ten were killed and more than 80 injured when the explosion—caused by natural gas—collapsed the department store.

The jury brought in its verdict after deliberating seven hours. More than 150 witnesses testified during the four-day hearing.

U.S. Asks Return Of Rocket Bits

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The United States yesterday asked Cuba to return any available fragments of the satellite rocket which fell on the eastern part of the island two days ago after being launched from Cape Canaveral.

The request was made by the state department through Daniel M. Braddock, acting U.S. ambassador in Havana. Braddock also was told to explain to the Cuban foreign ministry how the incident occurred.

LEARN CAUSES

Department press officer Joseph W. Reap said the United States wanted the fragments "in order that they may be identified and analyzed in an effort to learn the causes of malfunction." He said the rocket involved "has a record of proven reliability."

The Thor-Able-Star rocket, which had been designed to orbit two satellites, developed a malfunction shortly after the launch and was blown up by a safety officer at Cape Canaveral.

STILL OFF COAST

The state department said the decision was made to destroy the rocket when it was still off the coast of Florida and when there was "the greatest possibility of minimizing adverse consequences."

The department said the fact that most of the vehicle fell into the open sea was proof the action was taken at the right time. It added that "unfortunately, according to reports, some fragments of the vehicle fell on Cuban territory."

Bomb Blasts Wreck Castro Anniversary

HAVANA (UPI)—Bomb terrorists yesterday marked Fidel Castro's observance of the fourth anniversary of his invasion of Cuba which toppled the Fulgencio Batista regime.

Explosions rattled windows in the suburban Vigora and Vedado districts, the first within half a block of an army barracks.

A third bomb went off in a justice ministry courtroom. A fourth was found in a bathroom of the building before it exploded. A fifth unexploded bomb was found near the Cuban Electric Co.

Unconfirmed reports said anti-Castro rebels attempted unsuccessfully last Sunday to kill a top Castro aide. He was said to have escaped the ambush but three bodyguards were killed.

German Hints

Nikita Winner At Red Summit

BERLIN (Reuters) — East German leader Walter Ulbricht said Friday the Moscow summit conference of Communist leaders agreed the East-West balance of forces has "changed so much it is possible to avoid wars."

Ulbricht's statement on his return was the first public mention of any agreement at the three-week talks.

OTHERS' VIEWS

The conference ended Thursday with a communique saying only the delegates of 81 countries had "exchanged experiences and familiarized themselves with each other's views."

Ulbricht added that although developments in different countries were "many-sided and complicated," the conference reached "unity of view."

WAR AVOIDED

Political quarters in West Berlin said Ulbricht's remarks indicated a victory for Premier Khrushchev's line that war can be avoided.

Chinese Communists are reported pessimistic about the possibility of avoiding world war.

In Moscow, meanwhile, Khrushchev gave president Liu Shao-chi of China the place of honor in a picture published Friday showing the 200 delegates to the Communist summit.

Protestants Protest Papal Visit

LONDON (Reuters) — The British Protestant Alliance last night protested the Archbishop of Canterbury's audience with Pope John.

(See story on Page 18.)

Rev. Robert Hood, an Anglican clergyman, said the visit was "the greatest example of back-sliding and back-pedalling the world has ever seen."

Hood said "with a Roman Catholic president of the United States to lead the free world, and the British heads of government gazing soulfully into the Pope's face, only the blind can fail to see the beginning of a Vatican-centred priest rule of the whole world."

Flaming Tanks Explode

SANTA FE SPRINGS, Calif. (UPI)—A flash fire at the Rothschild Oil Co. refinery last night touched off a series of explosions involving nine huge tanks of high octane gasoline, authorities reported.

Norwalk sheriff's deputies said the nine burning tanks were among a field of 50 tanks and that flames continued at 11 p.m. PST to threaten another 18 tanks in the field.

Fire chief Elmer Gates of the Downey fire department who assisted in fighting the fire, said he believed the fire was touched off by a spark of static electricity.

Officers said no injuries were reported.

Rail Workers On Job Today

OTTAWA (CP)—The railway strike is off. A government ban against the nation-wide rail walkout was proclaimed as law at 6.30 p.m. EST.

After a three-day emergency debate, Parliament ordered 111,000 non - operating rail workers to stay on their jobs and keep the trains running.

TO WIRE

The stop-the-strike law went almost to the wire in its pell-mell push against the strike deadline — set for 8 a.m. local time today.

It faced fierce criticism from the opposition in both the Commons and the Senate, but finally was given royal assent at 6.05 p.m. The formal proclamation followed after a special cabinet meeting.

HALL CONCURS

Chief union spokesman Frank H. Hall issued a statement suspending the strike call and ordering all employees to "remain in service." He was in the Senate gallery as Chief Justice Patrick Kerwin of the Supreme Court of Canada, acting for the Governor-General, gave the legislation royal assent.

The new law postpones any strike action in the rail-union contract scrap until after May 15—without prejudicing the interest of either disputant.

FREEZES WAGES

In effect, it freezes the wages of the "non-op" rail workers—the clerks, machinists, freight handlers, porters, telegraphers, signalmen and others who do not actually run trains. Their average hourly earnings are $1.77.

Prime Minister Diefenbaker and Labor Minister Starr said in the Commons the law would prevent a national calamity and massive unemployment resulting from a tie-up of the transcontinental trains.

PROPER COURSE

"In the perspective of the days ahead, what we have done will turn out to have been the proper course . . . the course of reason and of common sense," said Mr. Diefenbaker.

Opposition Leader Pearson blasted the government action as an "unjust" method, even though he agreed that the strike had to be stopped.

"We cannot vote to force men to work for wages judged to be substandard," he said.

CRITICAL OF DELAY

CCF Leader Argue hit the government for delaying its action until the strike could be averted but without solving the basic wage issue underlying it.

Unfair Says Pearson

OTTAWA (UPI)—The Diefenbaker government's anti-rail strike legislation hardly had its ink dried last night before opposition leader Lester Pearson was carrying the Liberal party's case against it to the people in a nation-wide radio hook-up.

Pearson used his time on "The Nation's Business" series over CBC to charge that railway workers were not being treated fairly by the strike postponement bill.

He said that "parliament should not seek by legislation to force men to continue to work for wages which are lower than a conciliation board found to be fair and reasonable after a full, careful and objective inquiry extending over a year and during which every kind of evidence was heard which could be possibly concerned with the issue."

★ ★ ★

Federal System 'Speared'

OTTAWA (CP) — Senator Arthur Roebuck said Friday the government's bill preventing the railway strike drives a spear through the heart of the federal system for settling labor disputes.

The Toronto Liberal told the Senate shortly before it approved the legislation that the measure makes a farce of collective bargaining.

Senator Roebuck, who often acts in a legal capacity for railway unions, was the only senator who stated he would not vote for the bill.

Watch Out for Reds U.S. Airlines Told

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Soviet planes have tried to intercept U.S. planes recently near the Kurile Islands in the northwest Pacific, the Federal Aviation Agency disclosed Friday.

A spokesman said the FAA has issued a "notice to airmen" urging U.S. pilots to avoid intrusion on Russian territory in the area.

The FAA cannot give details of the "buzzing and attempted interception" of planes because these have been classified by the state department, the spokesman added.

But the directive was directed particularly at the two U.S. airlines flying a route near the Kuriles — Northwest Orient and Pan American.
